To RSVP or to ask any questions, please contact staff clinicians.

These funds are available to currently enrolled, eligible degree- or certificate-seeking students facing COVID-related financial challenges. In addition, the federally funded Higher Education Emergency Relief Fund (HEERF) can also be used to support students who are facing economic difficulties related to the pandemic. This fund is intended to provide financial relief to students who have experienced unexpected financial difficulties as a result of the pandemic, including students who have lost their jobs or whose family income has decreased significantly.

The Fletcher Initiative on Religion, Law, and Diplomacy (RLD) invites you to their upcoming panel series, "Religion and Peacemaking: Escalation and Deterrence." The series will explore the role of religion in conflict and peacebuilding, and how religious leaders and communities can work to prevent violence and promote reconciliation.

Finally, we consider what all of this suggests about current events in the United States today. This event is part of the Anthropology Speakers Series: Global Racism, State Violence, and Activism, presented by the Department of Anthropology.

The University Chaplaincy is a dynamic hub supporting religious, spiritual, ethical, and cultural life for all members of the Tufts community. We offer a range of programming and resources to support our students, faculty, and staff in their religious and spiritual journeys, as well as in their efforts to engage with the world around them.

If you have an idea for how University Chaplaincy programming can better serve you, please contact chaplaincy.tufts.edu

For more information, or to sign up for upcoming events, please visit the University Chaplaincy website.

The University Chaplaincy provides a range of resources and programs to support the spiritual and religious needs of the Tufts community. Our chaplains are available to offer prayer, counsel, and support, and we offer a variety of services and events to support the diverse spiritual and religious needs of our community.

Tufts. Last year, we offered our virtual Purim program, "Passover's Other Rites." This year, we are looking forward to offering our virtual Purim program, "Purim: A Holiday of Joy and Creativity." Our program will include a virtual carnival, a virtual hamantaschen factory, and a virtual Purim social hour. If you have any questions or concerns, please contact us.

The Great Awakening: A Day of Reflection and Action is an annual event that brings together leaders from a wide range of faith traditions to explore the role of religion in social justice and transformation. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Great Awakening: A Day of Reflection and Action." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Rest Of Us: Reclaim Your Human Be-ing is a six-week program that provides a unique experience of God. This new series will share readings, videos, reflection tools, and discussion groups with you. Sign up to receive a Mishloach Manot bag of snacks and trinkets to make your Purim memorable. Please note, while we welcome everyone to participate, we cannot guarantee availability for all events.

The Next Generation: Intergenerational Justice is a virtual event that brings together young and old to explore the role of intergenerational justice in social change. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Next Generation: Intergenerational Justice." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Symposium on the Teaching of White American History is an annual event that brings together educators and activists to explore the role of history in social justice and transformation. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Symposium on the Teaching of White American History." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Living and Dying Movement is a virtual event that brings together people from all walks of life to explore the role of spirituality in end-of-life care. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Living and Dying Movement." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Clinic on the History of Religion is a virtual event that brings together scholars and students to explore the role of religion in history. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Clinic on the History of Religion." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Student Life Summit is a virtual event that brings together students from all walks of life to explore the role of education in social justice and transformation. This year, we are looking forward to hosting our virtual event, "The Student Life Summit." Our event will include a series of online workshops and panel discussions, as well as a virtual social hour to connect with other participants.

The Religious and Philosophical Life Programs are a range of events and programs that explore the role of religion and philosophy in social justice and transformation. Our events include panel discussions, workshops, and readings, as well as opportunities to engage with other participants.