The COVID-19 crisis has created significant financial hardship for individuals and families around the world, including students at Tufts University. To support our students facing COVID-related financial challenges, the University has established a "Grant for Tufts Students Facing COVID-19 related Financial Hardship". These funds are available to currently enrolled, eligible degree- or certificate-seeking students.

Applications are due March 1 and can be submitted through the Tufts website.

Anthropology and the Center for the Humanities at Tufts, in partnership with the Department of Anthropology, are presenting the Anthropology Speakers Series: Global Racism, State Violence, and Activism. This event, presented by the Department of Anthropology, focuses on the impacts of the COVID-19 pandemic on global health, inequality, and violence. In this conversation, we hear about the experiences of Muslims and Jews in Germany, and how does the state mediate the meanings of these terms? In this conversation between Doughan and El Badawi, we will discuss the relationship between Islamophobia and anti-Semitism in Germany.

Here is the schedule for upcoming events:

February 16
- "The Rest Of Us: Reclaim Your Human Be-ing" presented by Hillel and the University Chaplaincy
- "How do you find and describe your sense of meaning in life? Is it a commitment to justice, an awe before nature, or a unique experience of God? This new series will share readings, videos, reflection tools, and discussion groups around talking about "something greater than oneself" (abbreviated "sgto"). Those interested can sign up anytime via the sgto e-list via the Tufts e-list service here.

February 23
- "An Evening with Rev. Jesse L. Jackson Sr.", hosted by the Center for the Study of American Democracy
- "Keeping the Dream Alive: Half a Century Later" presented by the Center for the Study of American Democracy

March 2
- "The Great Wall of Racism: When a New Century Will Not Bring New Opportunities" presented by the Center for the Study of American Democracy

Finally, we consider what all of this suggests about current events in the United States today. This event is part of the Martin Luther King Symposium "From the Covers of a Promissory Note to the Covers of a Check: Reflections on Race and Religion". The Symposium commemorates Martin Luther King, Jr., and his legacy of activism and social justice. The event features a keynote address by Rev. Elyse Nelson Winger, followed by a panel discussion with experts in the fields of religion, law, and diplomacy.

The Symposium will take place on Monday, February 22, at 12 noon in the Humanist Chaplain's office. Registration is required and can be found on the Tufts website. The event is free and open to the public.

The symposium will be followed by a panel discussion on "Religion and Peacemaking" presented by the Fletcher Initiative on Religion, Law, and Diplomacy (RLD). The panel will explore the role of religion in the promotion of peace and reconciliation. The event is scheduled for Tuesday, February 23, at 12 noon in the Humanist Chaplain's office. Registration is required and can be found on the Tufts website. The event is free and open to the public.

For more information, please visit the Tufts website or contact the event organizers.
