UCSF Climate Health Dialogue

The UCSF Climate Health Newsletter is a resource for those interested in climate change and its impacts on health. It provides information, events, and opportunities for action. The newsletter aims to connect the UCSF community with experts and resources to accelerate and accelerate what UCSF does best: advance the related science, education, clinical care, and policy change.

Climate Health Links

- Information
- Events
- Opportunities for Action

Events

- UCSF Office of Sustainability and the Center for Human Health and Climate Change, led by Dr. Marya Zlatnik, co-chair of the Ad Hoc Academic Senate Committee on Sustainability.

Opportunities for Action

- UCSF Sustainability
- Climate Health
- Earth Day
- American Heart Association
- Science and Society
- American Nurses Association
- United Nations Climate Change

Medical Students Call Us On

To your rights for Climate Action & Health

UCSF Climate Health Newsletter

Advancing Science, Building Bridges, Creating Community

May 2020