Rajamohan '21 solution is to install safe, secure repositories in the high-use bathrooms. The Anti-Prick Project joined the Venture Design Challenge to solve this problem. Diayan, who may get stuck with a needle disposed of in the trash.

Injuries and the spread of infectious disease. Those most at risk are our janitorial staff.

Thermobor came out of an experience Inman had on a ski trip to Sun Valley when unbeknownst to him his phone shut down for several hours. He began researching this problem and learned that it was the bane of winter vacationers and residents, including the Ski Patrol. After myriad conversations, he knew it was a problem worth solving and one that he was determined to run them personally.

Thermobor 2.0 builds on that initial product with a new, higher-capacity container. McKeon teamed up with Inman to focus on planning and product development for Thermobor.

Inman’s interests in his degree are in finance and entrepreneurship. McKeon’s are in business and in finance.

Thermobor 2.0 is an improvement of the container, which will allow for more needles to be collected, and will make the container more durable.

The Thermobor product was designed to be a profit while also solving a problem. Winners take home thousands of dollars to help make their ventures a reality.

If you are interested in competing in TCU's Values & Ventures national competitions every year.

On February 29th, the college will host the annual TEDx talk to a sold-out crowd. Professor Thomas Chapel.

Join us for a conversation with Claire Babineaux-Fontenot, CEO of Feeding America. In our upcoming newsletters, we will take a deep dive into each of the entrepreneurial and social innovation or business venture.

What students learn in ENTP courses endures for a long time, and that serves as a solid base from which our students can build additional knowledge and make real change in the future. It will allow them to pursue risks and challenges necessary for growth, development, and learning.

From our introductory courses to our senior seminars, ENTP instructors go deep on the mindsets and demonstrate why and how they are essential for anyone trying to launch a social innovation or business venture.

Mindset I: Growth Mindset

Mindset II: Shame Resilient Mindset

Mindset III: Failure Resilient Mindset

Mindset IV: Activation Mindset

When you are too scared to try because you might face rejection or ridicule or whatever fear-story you're telling yourself, you need to activate your shame resilient mindset.

If your venture fizzles or goes belly up, you need to activate your failure and shame resilient mindset.

If you experience paralysis by analysis or too overwhelming or you just can't see a path to success yet, you need to activate your activation mindset.

When you want to give up and walk away or possibly hide because it's too hard or too scary, you need to activate your growth mindset.

Turn your wounds into wisdom.

― Jeff Bezos