businesses and organizations–so that, together, we can more effectively address the world's sustainability challenges. Not only will we celebrate the 5th anniversary of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development and the Earth Optimism Summit 2020, but we will also discuss the importance of ambitious state-level action towards solving climate change by 2030. View the following funding opportunities and consider submitting your proposal:

Regional Disaster Management Workshop:
- Proposal Deadline: April 20, 2020
- Funding Opportunity: Limited Submission Funding Opportunities
- Contact: Erik J. Stemmy, 301-974-0027

Funding Opportunities for Research on Aquaculture:
- Funding Source: National Institute of Health
- Project Title: Non-commercial, non-clinical-care research that can be used immediately to explore how to model and predict disease predictability to improve aquaculture practices.
- Deadline: May 1, 2020
- Contact: Sheila Davis, 540-357-2047

The following funding opportunities limit the number of submissions per institution and require a detailed proposal that includes a list of investigator(s) and collaborators' names; and title of proposal.

In light of the restrictive travel and public gathering environments being faced globally due to the Coronavirus Disease 2019 (COVID-19), the Office of Advanced Cyberinfrastructure (OAC) within the Department of Energy has published its inaugural DEB also encourages interdisciplinary proposals that cross conceptual boundaries and address pressing global challenges.

Proposals should be submitted to the core clusters (Ecosystem Sciences, Evolutionary Biology, Microbiology, Environmental Chemistry, and Environmental Geophysics) for consideration. More information can be found on the Department of Energy's website.
