The Community Plan for Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity

The MCAN Board is pleased to announce the launch of the Community Plan for Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity (CIDE) at Carleton College. The CIDE is a strategic IDE plan with a special focus on racial equity and creating a more equitable and inclusive Carleton community. The CIDE will be implemented over the next decade, beginning in June.

The plan was developed by the CIDE Steering Committee, which included members of the Carleton community, in collaboration with the Office of Institutional Research and Planning, the President’s Office, and key stakeholders across the institution. The plan is designed to ensure that Carleton College is a more equitable and inclusive community for all students, faculty, and staff.

The CIDE includes a range of initiatives and goals that will help Carleton College achieve its vision of becoming a more equitable and inclusive community. These initiatives include developing a comprehensive IDE plan, increasing the diversity of the Carleton community, and creating a more inclusive campus culture.

The CIDE will be implemented over the next decade, and will be reviewed and updated periodically. The MCAN Board looks forward to working with the Carleton community to ensure that the CIDE is successful in achieving its goals.

Why volunteer

As a member of the MCAN Board, I volunteer because I would love to provide for in-depth discussion on current events, the Black student experience at Carleton, the Black at Carleton Exhibit in February, this small group of Black students meets regularly to discuss current events and life after Carleton. They are joined by Philosophy Professor Eddie O’Byrn and former student snacks and drinks at the Guthrie Theater in Minneapolis followed by a riveting discussion with the cast and dinner at the Daugherty Atrium.

The MCAN Board was able to meet this May for the first in-person board meeting since October 2019. It was great to be on campus, interact with some current students, and meet each other face-to-face. Carleton is but one part of all of us. Graduate students, faculty, staff, alumni, friends, and families are also part of The Community Plan for Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity. The MCAN Board looks forward to working with the Carleton community to ensure that The Community Plan for Inclusion, Diversity, and Equity is successful in achieving its goals.
