Applications for the 2023-24 Provost Fellows for Teaching, Leadership, and Mentorship are now open and are due by April 17.

The Provost Fellow Program is an integral component of the Office of the Provost’s faculty development programming. It provides a significant professional development opportunity for mid-career faculty interested in learning more about academic leadership and contributing to university-level decision making and initiatives.

The 2023-24 fellowships are in the areas of teaching, leadership, and mentorship. Each fellow will help shape a high-priority university commitment:

- Teaching: fellows help UO think strategically about ways that newer teaching modalities can support student access and success across degree programs.
- Leadership: fellows help UO develop a rich, culturally responsive and networked mentorship culture across campus.
- Mentorship: fellows work to strengthen the culture of leadership at UO and provide support to local leaders and unit heads.

AWARDS & OPPORTUNITIES

TOMORROW The Williams Fund: William Fellows: Nominate a colleague or two faculty collaborators who do transformative work together for a fellowship to acknowledged and support their work and dissemination.

The Williams Fund: Williams Instructional Grants: Fund your innovative teaching idea and get support as you bring your experiences to the campus community.

Graduate Education Excellence Awards: Nominate someone whose impact on mentorship, academic leadership, and collaboration in graduate programs.

OPPORTUNITIES & DEADLINES

THIS WEEK! Student Experience Surveys: The end-of-semester is approaching quickly and students will start filling out their experience surveys this week. The shared survey has been shortened and faculty now can add their own questions. Use this guide for helpful tips to ensure you get a range of responses, such as providing class time in week 10 for students to submit their surveys and express genuine interest in receiving feedback.

Core Education Reapproval: We have sent out reminders to unit heads with the list of outstanding courses to be reviewed in this last year of Core Education course reapproval. If you haven’t started work on your course yet, please do now.

Courses not reviewed this year will lose their Core Education status. Ron Bramhall and Lee Rumbarger are available to workshop with units as they work on their courses.

RESOURCES

AEC accommodations for Canvas exams: If you have created Canvas exams for tests or time-limited assessments, you may need to adjust settings for students with accessibility accommodations. Moderating Exams to Allow for Additional Time and Attempt will guide you through the process.

Need more assistance with Canvas exam settings or grading? Walk-in support is available weekdays from 8:30am to 4:30pm in PLC 68. You can also call 541-346-1942 or email for assistance.

Academic Impressions: Navigating and Success in graduate programs.
