Alumni Spotlight

Josh Colasurdo is a 2018 UP graduate who is currently an outstanding medical student up at OHSU. While Josh was at UP, he worked as an organic chemistry workshop leader and as a teaching assistant for Human Physiology and A&P I/II. As an undergraduate, he was also able to complete an internship experience in rural medicine that allowed him to receive credit toward his degree. After graduation, he began work as a full-time medical scribe before transitioning into a medical informatics and clinical epidemiology research position at OHSU. Josh was also involved as a health volunteer at a local homeless hospitality center and in a leadership position at a student-run health clinic. We wish Josh all the best on his continued journey to becoming a physician...we know he will continue to do great things! Read more about Josh!
