Dear Colleague,

After only being home a couple of weeks, I'm already missing Africa. My quick solution? Invite myself for dinner to my parents' African-themed house. It wasn't as good as being in Africa (although what else is?), but it's the best that a land-locked girl from Saskatchewan can do from here!

As always, our African clients are keeping us busy with updates and developments! Check out the latest news below from TopGuides Bush Camps and the newest addition to our portfolio — Mara Siana. Plus Rwanda's latest Park entry updates are officially out! There's lots happening, so be sure to peruse News At A Glance.

Lastly, anyone out there located in Seattle or Portland? I'll be visiting both cities the week of June 12th, so let me know if you're around! I will be hosting an informative lunch in Portland on June 15 12:00 - 1:30 pm at the Bullard Tavern. There are a couple of spots left. RSVP to karen@emergingdestinations.com if you would like to attend.

Best regards,

The Emerging Destinations team

News at a Glance

Mara Siana, Kenya

- Emerging Destinations is pleased to welcome Mara Siana Camp in Kenya to our portfolio. The camp opens June 15th and we do have high season availability. A small upscale camp located in the newly formed Ripoi Conservancy (formerly Olarro South), Mara Siana lies in a stunning undiscovered area just outside the Mara Reserve. Game viewing is exceptional in and around the camp. The 19,000 + acre conservancy features the “Big Seven” of East African wildlife — elephants, lions, leopards, rhino, buffalo, cheetahs and African wild dogs. The camp is 50% Masai and 50% female owned. Among its directors are some of Kenya’s safari stars. Ranked as one of Africa’s top 15 guides by Conde Nast Traveler and co-star of the TV series Big Cat Tales, Jackson Looseyia was born and raised in the heart of the Masai Mara. Contact us for rates, availability etc!

JW Marriott Masai Mara Lodge, Kenya

- Forget about JW Marriott's typical gleaming high-rise hotels and mega resorts. For Marriott's first foray into the safari game, the brand has kept things appropriately snug with just 20 tents pitched up on the bushy banks of the Maasai Mara's Talek River. Read more here!

Atua Enkop, Kenya

- We have lots of camp updates to share! Check them out below.
- Mara Ngenche Safari Camp
 - * 6 tents along the Mara River are being replaced with new tents.
 - * These new tents will have doors to enter, the plunge pools inset in decks which are being made in the front areas of the tents.
 - * The six tents will also have the same design - Tent 3 11 and 12 are already like these.
 - * The lounge and dining areas are now on new wooden decks giving them a better

* A new deck has also been built for the fireplace seating in front of the lounge overlooking the confluence of the two rivers.

* New washrooms have been erected close to reception for Ladies and Gents - again on small decks.

* Expecting one new game viewing Land cruiser to be added to our current fleet before the end of June.

- Elephant Bedroom Camp

* The main area deck that houses the public areas - lounge/bar/dining is currently being replaced with a new deck.

* The spa tent is being replaced

* All guest tents decks have been sanded down, and finished off properly

* All guest tents have had doors installed for the convenience of the slightly older traveller.

* Expecting one new game viewing Land cruiser to be added to our current fleet before the end of June.

- Tipilikwani Mara Camp

* Guest tent ceilings were all replaced a few months ago

* New Canvas Walls and front doors now being undertaken

* Expecting one new game viewing Land cruiser to be added to our current fleet before the end of June.

- Elephant Bedroom Camp is going full solar with a 30Kva system using super capacitors.

The other camps are currently partially solar. We would estimate that we are 80% solar at Tipilikwani and Mara Ngenche and approximately 70% solar at Mbweha.
