CAREER PLANNING CLASS

Did you know that UM-Dearborn offers a Career Planning class?

The class is titled EXPS-102 or Exploratory Studies in Career Planning.

In this one-credit course, you will assess your interests, skills, personality, and values. You will also identify careers which match your preferences, research labor market trends and develop your career goals.

During the Winter 2019 semester, it is offered on Monday's or Wednesday's at 11:00-12:15 pm.

"This class...taught me so many things about myself and how [they] connect to my career choice. This made me even more motivated and committed to becoming an attorney. I will never forget this experience, [which] allowed me to really think about...and have a plan for the future." -Past Student
