Vanderbilt is encouraging all employees to take advantage of the new wellness program it has just launched. Employee Learning and Engagement unlocks the potential of every employee by offering innovative and meaningful learning experiences, creating space to foster conversations and enhance our Vanderbilt community, are offered at no cost.

Electronic W-2s now available; printed W-2s mailed in the coming weeks. The Vanderbilt employee W-2 can be accessed through is now available on the Vanderbilt University Portal. Employees can print their W-2 statements and receive a PDF copy via email. For any questions or issues with your W-2, please contact Human Resources.

Participate in professional development and career growth by accessing the Employee Learning and Engagement course catalog. The catalog is open for September to December 2023 for Vanderbilt University employees. A new learning event will be added to the catalog each month.

The new wellness program; Virgin Pulse replaces GoWell. Employees can log into their new Virgin Pulse account and begin earning rewards today. Develop healthy habits, earn rewards through Virgin Pulse.

A look ahead at our 150th year

Chancellor Daniel Diermeier welcomes Vanderbilt students, faculty, staff and postdocs back to what promises to be an especially rich and fruitful spring semester in a message to the university community.

A new housing study for faculty and professional and graduate student communities will receive an invitation today to participate. The survey is housed in the Department of Asian Studies, the program aims to launch an undergraduate program in Asian American and Asian diaspora studies, including both a major and a minor, for spring 2023. Members of Vanderbilt University's faculty, staff, postdoc and student communities are invited to participate.

The new wellness program for Vanderbilt University employees this year. Vanderbilt is now offering a new, enhanced benefit for its employees this year. The new wellness program provides employees with a variety of resources and tools to support their overall health and well-being. Employees can access the new wellness program through the Employee Learning and Engagement website.

Islamic Heritage Month

This month we honor the ongoing fight for justice, equality for all and movements that make a better world. Vanderbilt honors his legacy through the MLK Day Keynote. Dr. King’s power of love connects us to our shared humanity. In forgiving us solace in a divided world. His life of forgiveness and harnessing the power of love as inspiration. It is the life of Rev. James Lawson that offers the target.

We are expressing frustration, disappointment and lament for the murder of 29-year-old Nichols. Together we mourn his death and denounce violent incidents in which marginalized members of our society are too often placed in peril. Some cases place Black Americans in peril. A look ahead at our 150th year.