Sworn to Change A Child's Story

There's something special about watching new CASA volunteers take the oath to advocate for children in foster care. This month, we welcomed six new advocates to the Hall-Dawson CASA family!

As the number of children we serve continues to grow, so does the need for more dedicated volunteers. Join us in this life-changing work—your voice could be the one that makes all the difference.

Volunteer Spotlight

“I have been a CASA for eight years. After retiring, I was looking for a meaningful way to stay involved in the community, and advocating for kids in distress checked all the right boxes. I still keep in touch with one of the kids from my first case — he’s a young man now — and we’ve developed a wonderful relationship. We’ve been through good and bad times together, across numerous placements and situations, and he knows I’ll be there for him as long as I can.

"Several of my kids have found permanency, and there’s no better feeling than that. I also appreciate the emphasis on ongoing training, as well as the excellent supervision and support we receive. If you’re looking for fulfillment through volunteering, I highly recommend Hall-Dawson CASA.”

By the Numbers: CASA's Commitment

As of today, Hall-Dawson CASA has served 376 children in 2025 — a powerful reminder of what compassion in action looks like.

As the year draws to a close, we remain steadfast in our mission to fiercely advocate for every child in need, working toward a future where every child in Hall and Dawson Counties experiencing foster care due to abuse or neglect has the support and stability they deserve.

We hope you'll join us in this mission — whether by volunteering, donating, or simply sharing our story — to help us

Change A Child's Story.
