

A Greeting From Your Humanist Chaplain

Dear Tufts Community,

Our bodies are once again adjusting to the cycle of life in the spring. Perhaps we feel more energized, enjoying longer days of sunlight, and afternoons of the Prez Lawn with friends. And yet, as spring begins, we are simultaneously already preparing for next semester – choosing classes, planning events and programs, deciding about what comes next. In this way, we continue to experience both times of pause and orientation to what's to come.

I recall In Living Memory: A Concert of Stories and Songs that occurred this past fall. This offering emerged in 2021 as an act of love towards greater inclusion, celebration, and representation of stories, songs, and altars shared by students from the SMFA, Latinx Center, and the University Chaplaincy. Planning for this event starts in the summer, a seed planted under the warm sun that doesn't flourish until late fall.

What new things would you like to discover, deepen, or even challenge within yourself during this summer? What seeds are you planting now that will flourish later, and how can you give those seeds the best ecosystem possible?

For me, I will write most of my dissertation chapters on Afro-Caribbean subjectivities and spiritualities, as well as prepare to be a visiting lecturer at the ExCollege with the class "Humanism for Everyday Life." I know I will need time and space to write, as well as catch up on some of the books that I have acquired over this past year and actually read them for pleasure.

Sometime this spring, consider your fall self and when making decisions and/or choosing what to allow into your life. Think about how you want to water, soil, nurture, pruning, or even replanting the seeds that will soon be the garden of your life.

In growth and opportunities,

Anthony Cruz Pantojas
Humanist Chaplain

GLADC Listening and Dialogue Dinner

Monday, April 24 5:30 p.m. in the Coolidge Room, Ballou Hall 210.

What are the dialogue skills needed for polarizing conversations? How do we restore community after a difficult experience? This Listening and Dialogue with Dinner (LADD) event, hosted by the Tufts' Generous Listening and Dialogue Center (GLADC), seeks to help us reflect on these questions while practicing our generous listening and dialogue skills. The GLADC's Dialogue Ambassadors, Tufts graduate and undergraduate students, will facilitate listening and dialogue exercises over a community dinner. You can RSVP for the dinner here.

The poster is set against a bright yellow background. In the top left, a green circle contains the Crehan Lab logo (a cluster of colorful dots) and the text "Crehan Lab" and "autism & neurodiversity across the lifespan". To its right, a white circle contains the StAAR Center logo (a blue star with a grey elephant silhouette) and the text "StAAR Center". Below the Crehan Lab logo, the text "JOIN US FOR..." is written in blue. The main title "NEURODIVERSITY BUTTON MAKING!" is in large, bold, dark blue letters. To the right of the title is a QR code with a blue arrow pointing to it and the word "RSVP" in a blue, handwritten-style font. Below the title, there are three circular icons: a white circle with a colorful butterfly, a blue circle with a colorful infinity symbol, and a blue circle with a rainbow-colored infinity symbol. At the bottom left, the text "Contact: crehnlab@tufts.edu" is written. At the bottom right, a green circle contains the text "Save the Date!" and "Friday April 28th, 2-4pm Tisch Library Room 204".

Ramadan

Wed., Mar. 22 – Fri., Apr. 21, 2023

Tradition: Islam

The Holy Month of Ramadan is the month of fasting during which Muslims who are physically able do not eat or drink from the first sign of dawn until sunset in honor of the first revelations to the Prophet Muhammad. The evening meal is celebrated with family and in community.

Eid al-Fitr ('Id al-Fitr)

Thu., Apr. 20 – Sun., Apr. 23, 2023

Tradition: Islam

Also known as the Festival of the Breaking of the Fast. One of the two main Islamic festivals (the other is Eid al-Adha), this day celebrates the end of Ramadan, the month of fasting. It comes on the first day of the next lunar month, Shawal.

Ridvan

Thu., Apr. 20 – Tue., May 2, 2023

Tradition: Baha'i

Commemorates the 12 days that Baha'u'llah spent in the Garden of Ridvan in the last days of his exile in Baghdad, during which time he proclaimed himself as the one announced by Bab. Work is suspended for the first, ninth, and twelfth days.

Beltane

Sun., Apr. 30, 2023

Tradition: Wicca/Paganism

The final fertility festival, celebrating the Earth's fecundity and anticipating the power of the sun and the Earth in summer.

Ghambar Maidyozarem

Sun., Apr. 30 – Thu., May 4, 2023

Tradition: Zoroastrianism

Celebrates the creation of the sky and harvesting of the winter crop.
