

Dear Colleague,

Just back in the office after taking a week away from the travel world and throwing a music festival on our family's land here in Saskatchewan - I hope you're not as tired as me right now!

We're so excited that our own Ana Kammerer and Judy Hurst are currently aboard the Seaventure, cruising the North Atlantic. Iceland ProCruises still has space on select sailings in 2023 if you have any clients interested in a last-minute trip to Iceland this season! Not to mention their Summer Specials.

Meanwhile, Greece has been making some big moves! They recently just made 200 beaches accessible for people with disabilities. Check out the full article in our News At a Glance section below!

As always, feel free to book a virtual meeting with me here.

Regards,

The Emerging Destinations team
Jenna, Jane, & Ana

News at a Glance

Iceland ProCruises

- Still looking for space in Iceland this summer? Check out our 2023 Specials available on select summer sailings.
- This just in! We will continue using the SEAVENTURE for our 2024 cruises.
- Our Iceland Circumnavigation and Natural Wonders of Greenland cruises are being shortened by 1 day to avoid major price increases. We have taken out the day in Siglufjörður/Grimsey on our Iceland Circumnavigations and Uummannaq on our Natural Wonders of Greenland cruises.
- Uummannaq will still be in the program, but now as part of our new Adventure West Greenland Cruise - an 8 day/7 night cruise along the beautiful Greenlandic West coast including wet-landings, adventures and spots which are usually not reached on regular Greenland cruises. It includes the charter flight to/from Keflavik to/from Kangerlussuaq.
- Did you miss our webinar, "Circumnavigating Iceland with locals" last month? Check it out here!
- More news! There are now 4 combo tours available to book at discounted rate for 2024.

Pax More Greece

- Athens has moved up a spot on Allianz Partners' Top 10 Summer European Destinations list that shows where Americans intend to travel to this year. The Greek capital city climbed up one spot to 7th place on the list.
- A survey by the British Post Office revealed Athens as one of the cheapest cities in Europe for a city-break vacation. In a survey of 35 European cities, Athens ranked as the fourth cheapest (262 GBP for a weekend holiday) vs its neighboring Venice (687 GBP for a weekend) or Barcelona & Roma (500+ GBP).
- Watch the new summer campaign of the GNT0 here with the message "Greece: a life-changing experience."
- Greece has made 200 beaches accessible for people with disabilities. Watch the video from the World Economic Forum and learn more about the initiatives that Greece has taken on disability inclusion.

Iceland ProTravel

- Do you have clients looking for a Northern Lights Tour this winter? Check out the various options that Iceland ProTravel has to offer be it a city break or Southern shore tour!
- Why do you think makes Iceland so special? Find out what Iceland's first lady has to say here!

Visit Iceland recently launched a new campaign called "Mission Iceland" that riffs off all the outer-space movies and television shows that have filmed there in recent years. Called "Iceland. Better Than Space," the campaign revolves around billboards and a clever video starring a faux astronaut clad in a full moon suit asking would someone spend millions of dollars on a 15-minute space flight when you've got Martian landscapes and alien light forms (a.k.a. the Aurora Borealis) in Iceland. Read More

What type of Greek Traveler are you?

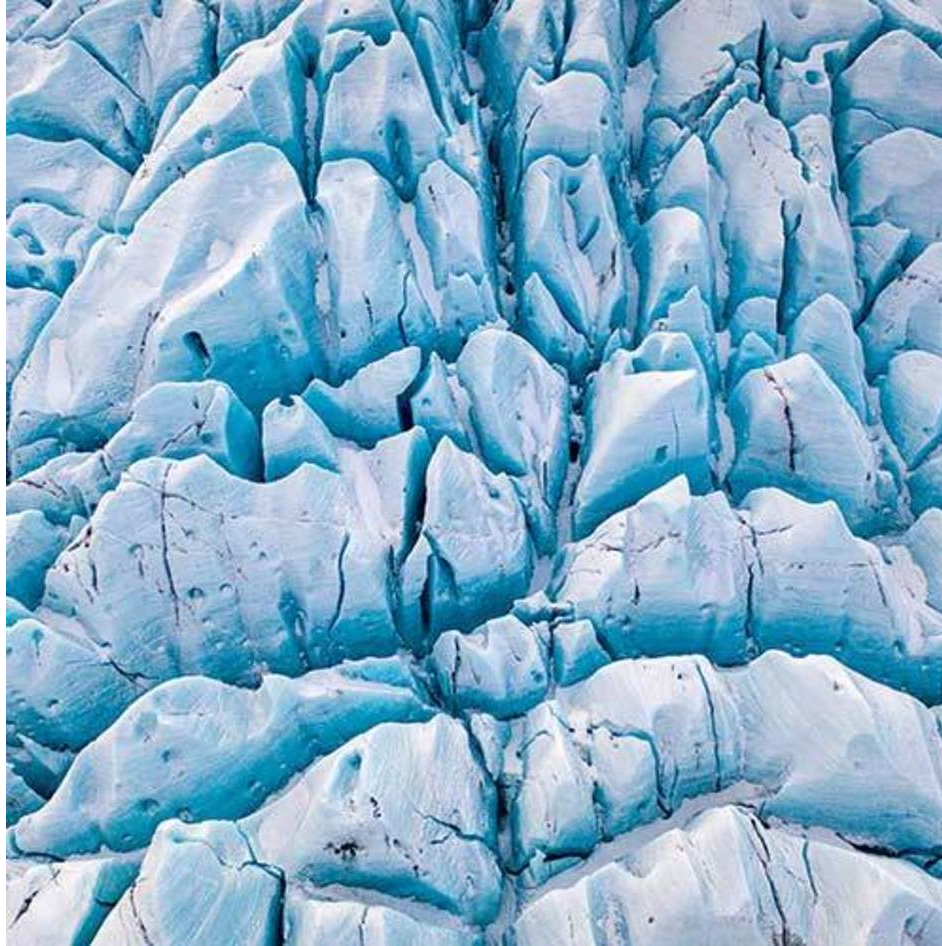

Greece is a destination that can satisfy a wide range of travelers due to its diverse offerings throughout the year. We have gathered together our favorite ones that you can choose with a little help from Pax More; unless you prefer to ask the Oracle of Delphi. In any case, please choose wisely. Continue Reading

Wanna Be An Expert on Iceland Glaciers?

Iceland not only has the most active volcanoes in all of Europe and countless impressive waterfalls, but also 13 large and several small glaciers that cover a total of about 11 percent of Iceland's land area.

Vatnajökull is far and away the island's largest glacier and one of the most impressive on the entire planet.
