Sculpture Court and SMFA at Tufts Well Space for workshop, with artists and educators Dana Bishop-Root and Ginger Brooks Takahashi of General Sisters, will ask information. All are welcome.

Buddhist Chaplaincy

For the first Sunday of Advent, the calendar is filled with events from different faiths. On the first Sunday of Advent, churches, the first Sunday of Advent marks the beginning of the Christian liturgical year. It is a period of four weeks in which Christians prepare for Christmas and meditate on the end of all time. In Western Christianity, Advent is seen as a time of waiting for the Second Coming of Christ. It begins on the Sunday after All Saints' Day and ends on Christmas Day. Among Hindus, this day is associated with one of the stories about the destruction of evil by Vishnu in one of his many manifestations.

Perhaps the most popular of all Hindu festivals, also known as the Festival of Lights, it is dedicated to the goddess Durga. Durga Puja celebrates the victory of good over evil, marking the beginning of the harvest season and the triumph of knowledge over ignorance. The festival, which takes place during the last three days of the dark fortnight of the lunar month of Ashvin (September/October), is celebrated with great fervor and devotion. During Durga Puja, people fast, offer prayers, and offer prayers to the goddess. The festival includes the immersion of the idols of Durga in the nearest body of water on the last day of the festival.

Tradition: Hinduism

These events are drawn from the multifaith calendar maintained by the Office of Religious and Spiritual Life at Tufts University. For Zoom links to any offering listed above, please visit our website. You can find more information about our weekly gatherings and student group meetings on our website. Participation and gifts of any size are most welcome! Your generosity to the Friends of Goddard Fund will enhance our dynamic, multifaith programs and increase our capacity to serve all members of the Tufts community. We would love to have you join us.

This year marks the 115th anniversary of the Tufts University Chaplaincy founding. Join us in celebrating the growth of our chaplains and advisors to you, no matter where you are in the world or how you are doing in this time. Our chaplains and advisors are here for you, no matter where you are in the world or how you are doing in this time. Many university resources are available to you, as you navigate this time post-election. We are holding a webinar with Kevin Kruse, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. We are also holding a webinar with Dr. Carrick Alarie, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. You may find out more about these events by contacting the office of religious and spiritual life at chaplaincy@tufts.edu.

Our chaplains and advisors are here for you, no matter where you are in the world or how you are doing in this time. Many university resources are available to you, as you navigate this time post-election. We are holding a webinar with Kevin Kruse, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. We are also holding a webinar with Dr. Carrick Alarie, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. You may find out more about these events by contacting the office of religious and spiritual life at chaplaincy@tufts.edu.

Life and death are a constant reminder for human beings. We try to grasp hold of some meaning in a world that is so uncertain. We seek to know the meaning of life, death, and existence. We try to answer these questions by looking to our history, our traditions, our traditions, and our traditions. We try to find answers to these questions by looking to the past, to the past, and to the past. We try to find answers to these questions by looking to the past, to the past, and to the past.

Solidarity and hope with you.

That time and hope that its musical refrain that "we are each other's" will keep moving us forward in solidarity and hope. We are each other's magnitude and bond. That time and hope that its musical refrain that "we are each other's" will keep moving us forward in solidarity and hope.

We can find solidarity and hope in the music of the world. We can find solidarity and hope in the music of the world. We can find solidarity and hope in the music of the world.

Many university resources are available to you, as you navigate this time post-election. We are holding a webinar with Kevin Kruse, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. We are also holding a webinar with Dr. Carrick Alarie, a professor of history and founding director of the Project on the History of Science, Medicine, and Religion. You may find out more about these events by contacting the office of religious and spiritual life at chaplaincy@tufts.edu.

Catholic Virtual Mass Gathering

Protestant Evening Worship (PEW)

You are warmly invited to "The Breakfast Club," a contemplative Bible study group for faculty and staff led by Tufts' Protestant Chaplain, the Reverend Dan Bell. We gather every Wednesday morning over Zoom to read Scripture, muse on the text, and engage in conversation. The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

You are warmly invited to "The Breakfast Club," a contemplative Bible study group for faculty and staff led by Tufts' Protestant Chaplain, the Reverend Dan Bell. We gather every Wednesday morning over Zoom to read Scripture, muse on the text, and engage in conversation. The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

The Breakfast Club is a space to discuss Hindu traditions and ideologies. This program is in partnership with the Tufts Hindu Students Council (HSC), a religious student organization that sponsors lectures and discussions about Hinduism, promotes interest in Hinduism, and fosters understanding and respect for Hinduism among students.

The HSC offers a variety of activities, including weeklyринrituals, readings, and discussions. The HSC also sponsors events such as Diwali, a Hindu festival of lights, and Navratri, a festival that celebrates the victory of good over evil.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about Hinduism, please feel free to contact the HSC. We encourage you to visit their website to learn more about their activities and programs.

The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

The Breakfast Club is a space to discuss Hindu traditions and ideologies. This program is in partnership with the Tufts Hindu Students Council (HSC), a religious student organization that sponsors lectures and discussions about Hinduism, promotes interest in Hinduism, and fosters understanding and respect for Hinduism among students.

The HSC offers a variety of activities, including weeklyринrituals, readings, and discussions. The HSC also sponsors events such as Diwali, a Hindu festival of lights, and Navratri, a festival that celebrates the victory of good over evil.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about Hinduism, please feel free to contact the HSC. We encourage you to visit their website to learn more about their activities and programs.

The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

The Breakfast Club is a space to discuss Hindu traditions and ideologies. This program is in partnership with the Tufts Hindu Students Council (HSC), a religious student organization that sponsors lectures and discussions about Hinduism, promotes interest in Hinduism, and fosters understanding and respect for Hinduism among students.

The HSC offers a variety of activities, including weeklyринrituals, readings, and discussions. The HSC also sponsors events such as Diwali, a Hindu festival of lights, and Navratri, a festival that celebrates the victory of good over evil.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about Hinduism, please feel free to contact the HSC. We encourage you to visit their website to learn more about their activities and programs.

The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

The Breakfast Club is a space to discuss Hindu traditions and ideologies. This program is in partnership with the Tufts Hindu Students Council (HSC), a religious student organization that sponsors lectures and discussions about Hinduism, promotes interest in Hinduism, and fosters understanding and respect for Hinduism among students.

The HSC offers a variety of activities, including weeklyринrituals, readings, and discussions. The HSC also sponsors events such as Diwali, a Hindu festival of lights, and Navratri, a festival that celebrates the victory of good over evil.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about Hinduism, please feel free to contact the HSC. We encourage you to visit their website to learn more about their activities and programs.

The season of Advent often passes us by without much notice. It arrives between Thanksgiving and Christmas, an opportunity for meditative reflection. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope. The time also marks an awakening of hope.

The Breakfast Club is a space to discuss Hindu traditions and ideologies. This program is in partnership with the Tufts Hindu Students Council (HSC), a religious student organization that sponsors lectures and discussions about Hinduism, promotes interest in Hinduism, and fosters understanding and respect for Hinduism among students.

The HSC offers a variety of activities, including weeklyринrituals, readings, and discussions. The HSC also sponsors events such as Diwali, a Hindu festival of lights, and Navratri, a festival that celebrates the victory of good over evil.

If you have any questions or would like to learn more about Hinduism, please feel free to contact the HSC. We encourage you to visit their website to learn more about their activities and programs.