Our first Transition Advisory Board meeting provided a wealth of ideas, directions, and possible industry and commercialization paths. The board reviewed four center projects nearing transition-ready status, interviews with experts, and potential government entities, and the commercial sector, as well as expert roundtables on transition readiness and associated issues.

The Transition Advisory Board met at the end of November 2020, and will continue to meet monthly to support the center’s mission. The board consists of professionals with expertise in transitioning technology to DHS, other federal agencies, and the commercial sector, as well as experts in technology assessment and evaluation.

Our board recognizes the critical role of identifying milestones and key decisions in the transition process, which includes developing transition strategies, identifying potential partners, and creating timelines.
