Dhanyavaadah and best wishes, into consideration this week and reach out and share. How do you honor our interconnected, interdependent and relational world? I invite you to bring it forward with the coordination of motions and sensations in dance, we can feel the life in each of these elements and what is greater than that.

Each element is connected to one of the five senses: nose to Earth, tongue to water, eyes to fire, skin to air, and ears to Space/Ether. Hinduism teaches that there are the Pancha Bhuta: Earth; Apah: Water; Agni: Fire; Vayu: Air; and Akasha: Space/Ether.

The Hindu Chaplaincy and Humanist Chaplaincy are hosting a Practice of Inclusion and Unlearning Retreat this weekend. In the Unlearning Retreat, we will put into practice the ideas of inclusion and unlearning that have come before us, and we will also learn something new in the process. We will begin this practice with a guided meditation and a discussion on the topic of inclusion and unlearning.

In this Unlearning Retreat, join the Hindu Chaplaincy and Humanist Chaplaincy in a practice of Inclusion and Unlearning. We will begin this practice with a guided meditation and a discussion on the topic of inclusion and unlearning. We will then break into small groups to discuss the topic further. The goal of this practice is to create a space where everyone feels welcome and respected, regardless of their background or beliefs.

We will explore the concept of inclusion and how it can be practiced in our daily lives. We will also discuss the concept of unlearning and how it can be practiced in our daily lives. We will use these practices to create a space where everyone feels welcome and respected, regardless of their background or beliefs.
