The FAFSA is a free student aid application that you can fill out electronically online. The processing of your FAFSA application can take a day to several weeks for the review process. The time it takes for your application to be reviewed depends on how thoroughly you've completed your FAFSA application and whether you submitted any required documentation. The Federal Student Aid website provides information about the processing time for your FAFSA application. It also provides information about the review process for your FAFSA application, including the types of documentation that may be required and how you can submit that documentation. Additionally, the Federal Student Aid website provides information about how you can check your FAFSA application status and how you can contact the Federal Student Aid website for assistance with your FAFSA application.