research ideas intended to address questions and challenges that CINA continues to welcome

Paper Submissions

CINA Welcomes 2020-21 Open RFP White

Terrorism, whether international or domestic in origin, remains a top threat to our national security. With the terrorist attacks of September 11, 2001, the threat of terrorism has evolved, and understanding the influences and circumstances that lead an individual or group to plan and carry out such attacks remains necessary, but it is through intervention and action, we can stop them before they lead to violence.

In an effort to spur research into this question, and we can stop them before they lead to violence, terrorist acts...but how do these extremist views develop and gain traction in the first place, and can we stop them before they lead to violence?

With our partner COEs
