Earth Day with the University Chaplaincy has created a series of practices for honoring your relationship with the Earth. What does this week's topic mean for you? The Holy Month of Ramadan is the month of fasting during which Muslims who are physically able do not eat or drink between sunrise and sunset. Beltane is a holiday celebrated by pagans and Wiccans in the spring time. This year it falls on April 30. Ghambar Maidyozarem is a time of celebration in the Zoroastrian calendar. Earth Week 2020 will feature short talks by artists Deanna Bowen and Alan Pelaez Lopez. After the talks, there will be a moderated Q&A and a conversation about Earth Week activities on campus.

Some events have moved online due to the pandemic. Please check the website for more information and updates.
