About the University Chaplaincy Enews

Celebrates the creation of the sky and harvesting of the winter crop.

Tradition: Zoroastrianism

Thursday, 4.30 – Monday, 5.4.2020

Ghambar Maidyozarem

Thursday, 4.30.2020

The Holy Month of Ramadan is the month of fasting during which Muslims who are physically able do not eat or

These events are drawn from the multifaith calendar maintained by the Office of Religious and Spiritual Life at

Upcoming Religious Holidays and Festivals

If you're interested in contributing to the Tufts COVID-19 Pandemic Collection at Digital Collections and Archives, your life now: at school, with your family and friends, in the news. We are especially interested in stories about the working to develop a community documentation project. Creating documentation of this historic moment not only your cover letter please describe why you want to be a peer leader or graduate teaching assistant and what skills, this link for the students (entering grades 10-12) who are passionate about learning how to enact social change in their

Teaching Assistants located across the country and the globe to take on the role of working with high school

A group for Tufts graduate students currently living on campus or in the greater Boston area. Join a small group of

Fridays, April 17 through May 8, 2:30 p.m. - 3:30 p.m. ET

Kyla.Martin@tufts.edu

and intersecting narratives of folks harmed by sexual violence, to honor and empower all impacted people and sessions

featuring short talks by artists Deanna Bowen and Alan Pelaez Lopez. After the talks, there will be a moderated

Wednesday, April 29 8:30 p.m. - 9:30 p.m. ET

Church of Christ in Medford, Massachusetts. She will be reflecting on bring a candle or small light as a way of being connected during our time

Zoom in place of the regular HCAT (Humanist Community at Tufts)

This will be the last meeting of the semester.

traditions. HSC hopes that you are staying safe and healthy during this time, and that you can join us to de-stress.

Join the events via Zoom by clicking

at

Walker.Bristol@tufts.edu

The visitation on Friday evening follows the wherever you find yourself in mind, body, and spirit in these

Sundays, April 26 and May 3, 7:00 p.m. ET

Protestant Evening Worship

videos and photos from Catholic Chaplain Lynn Cooper and the broader Catholic Community of Tufts. Follow the Check out the Catholic Chaplaincy's new Instagram account. This account will be a place to collect and reflect on

Join the events via Zoom by clicking

Here

#AtHomeActivism

be responsive to student needs in this time of a virtual chaplaincy, and welcome your insights, suggestions, and requests.

T

Sophie.Ricks@tufts.edu

Abdul-Malik Merchant, Muslim Chaplain

Rev. Dan Bell, Protestant Chaplain

Lynn Cooper, Catholic Chaplain

MSA Facebook page

Nora.Bond@tufts.edu

Graduate TA job description

Peer Leader job description

Student-Athlete Mindfulness Program

"I am very much enjoying my time on the campus. The most noticeable thing is the abundance of flowers. I have spent many afternoons enjoying the peace and tranquility found in my backyard. The peaches have blossomed with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits, snakes, and birds. I have come to see them as a reminder of the interconnectedness of all living beings. As I reflect on the beauty of nature, I feel a sense of gratitude and interconnectedness. I am grateful to them.

As I enter into the backyard, an image comes to my mind that echoes with the reality out there—the peach blossoms

blossom with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits, birds, sometimes taking photos and videos of the bees and birds around it, and always feeling joyful with the enhancing my connection with the world around me. I am grateful to them.

I am very much enjoying my time on the campus. The most noticeable thing is the abundance of flowers. I have spent many afternoons enjoying the peace and tranquility found in my backyard. The peaches have blossomed with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits, snakes, and birds. I have come to see them as a reminder of the interconnectedness of all living beings. As I reflect on the beauty of nature, I feel a sense of gratitude and interconnectedness. I am grateful to them.

As I enter into the backyard, an image comes to my mind that echoes with the reality out there—the peach blossoms

blossom with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits,

birds, sometimes taking photos and videos of the bees and birds around it, and always feeling joyful with the enhancing my connection with the world around me. I am grateful to them.

As I enter into the backyard, an image comes to my mind that echoes with the reality out there—the peach blossoms

blossom with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits,

birds, sometimes taking photos and videos of the bees and birds around it, and always feeling joyful with the enhancing my connection with the world around me. I am grateful to them.

As I enter into the backyard, an image comes to my mind that echoes with the reality out there—the peach blossoms

blossom with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits,

birds, sometimes taking photos and videos of the bees and birds around it, and always feeling joyful with the enhancing my connection with the world around me. I am grateful to them.

As I enter into the backyard, an image comes to my mind that echoes with the reality out there—the peach blossoms

blossom with its flowers, offering shade to the wooden bench. At times, there are other creatures around. Rabbits,

birds, sometimes taking photos and videos of the bees and birds around it, and always feeling joyful with the enhancing my connection with the world around me. I am grateful to them.