Peabody Newsletter JUNE 2024

On the Cover

Then and Now - A closer look at the Peabody's old collection drawers. Our staff is working hard this summer to move the Peabody collection into our new and secure collection space. We are saying goodbye to these wooden drawers as we rehouse collection material into more sustainable housing. Interested in learning more about the history behind these drawers? Check out this blog!

MARIA TAYLOR
CURATOR OF COLLECTIONS

As summer begins the Peabody dips back into traditions, old and new. This newsletter shares the newest version of our yearly reading list and highlights PA alumni reunion weekend. We also mark the removal of an exhibition that has been up since the 1960s! We hope you enjoy learning more about what we do. Happy summer!

Reunion Weekend 2024

Contributed by Marla Taylor

Curator of Collections, Marla Taylor, shares highlights from reunion weekend and welcoming back alumni who served as Peabody work duty students in the last 20 years that the Peabody has been apart of the work duty program. Read on for more!

Wax On, then 57 years later, Wax Off: Deinstallation of the Last Exhibit Case

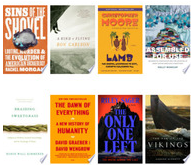

Contributed by John Bergman-McCool

This month we began deinstalling our institution's last remaining exhibit case. The case resides on the second floor in what was, until recently, our only environmentally controlled storage housing. Read on to learn more about this exhibit case and the deinstallation process.
