Take a Look at Our New PDTV Episode

Meet Dustyn Allen, an art teacher turned computer science educator at the Sevier Career and Technical Education Center. In this episode, we explore how Dustyn combines creativity, coding, gaming and digital media to inspire his students.

UEN has launched a brand new course: Character Animations in the Creative Classroom

This brand-new hub is designed to empower educators by providing them with learner-centered and evidence-based education that helps them build sustainable employment and careers.

Participants will explore the value of educational animations, examine their impact on learning, and gain hands-on experience in applying multimedia learning theory to create and use them effectively.

Join Beacon

BEACON (Building Educator AI Collaboration and Ongoing Networking) is a group of educators who want to gather and discuss AI in education.

Participants will help determine what we discuss at monthly meetings. The first meeting will be held on November 6 at 4:30 p.m.

If you are interested in participating in this monthly discussion, email Becca Esplin (rebecca.esplin@ironmail.org), and join the Google Classroom with this link:
