Please highlight for your faculty and graduate instructors that the Winter 2023 Course Resources are available. You’ll find adaptable Canvas modules that orient students to the course, streamline absence reporting, and define and emphasize academic integrity, all in a starter“’” module that incorporates all UO-required and many sample course policies.

Enabling the Senate’s Course Attendance and Engagement Policy addresses questions raised by faculty and students. We’re continuing to update this resource with samples and advice. Please note that the Office of the Dean of Students does not excuse absences and that some students report that they’re encountering course policies that don’t adequately account for illness. We hope you can help us express our appreciation for the efforts faculty and graduate instructors are making to reflect on the animating ideas of the new legislation—that transparent course policies matter and that it’s hard to adjudicate excuses fairly and consistently.

MESSAGES TO AMPLIFY

TOMORROW! Course Materials Reporting: It’s another quick turnaround to provide course materials for Spring 2023 courses. Reporting opens December 31 and the deadline for reporting is January 17, 2023. Please remind faculty in your unit of the deadline for reporting Spring course materials. All courses, even if they have no materials or costs, have to report through the Duck Store system.

FINAL YEAR! Core Education Reappraisal: We have sent out reminders to unit heads with the list of outstanding courses to be reviewed in this last year of Core Education course reappraisal. The deadline for submission is June 15, 2023. Courses not reviewed this year will lose their Core Education status. We are available to workshop with units as they work on their courses. Please contact Ron Bramhall or Lee Rumbarger to schedule.

Unit Policy Revisions: The Office of the Provost is initiating unit policy revisions this academic year in response to the most recent QBA ratification. Templates will be available in the next few weeks and made available to all units in January. Unit Merit policies are due June 30, 2023. Career and TTF Promotion and Review, and Professional Responsibilities policies are due June 16, 2024. Stay tuned for more guidance and information.

LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT & WORKSHOPS

Leadership Development Monthly Series: New unit heads are invited to register for our January sessions focused on Radical Candor & Effective Feedback. On January 11, we will dig into author Kim Scott’s principle of Radical Candor and discuss practical feedback strategies that support positive relationships while also leading to behavioral change and growth. This is part of the new unit head series, but all are welcome.

New Guidance for Post-Tenure Reviews: Join, and encourage others to join, Gabe Paquette, vice provost for academic affairs, on January 10 as he hosts a virtual Q&A to clarify the new unit head series, but all are welcome. While also leading to behavioral change, and growth. This is part of the new unit head series, but all are welcome.
