Consider these local and online options for far-flung friends and relations.

Hope & Stetson, Old Saybrook

Hope & Stetson is known for their hip West Hartford clothing shop, but you might not know about their genius “Simple Gesture” gifts. Whether you’re on the hunt for Hannukah, Christmas, or Baby It’s Cold Outside; you’ll find something sweet here. Carefully curated treats in lovely packaging at a good price point.

Mar Floral, Old Saybrook

My favorite florist, Marlee, offers a monthly subscription service, either a vase or bouquet of her artfully arranged and bountiful blooms, delivered locally.

Fatstone Farm, Lyme

For me, there's something pretty fabulous about pouring syrup on my pancakes that's practically made in my own backyard. And it's nice to spread the sweetness around, too, with an online purchase of local maple deliciousness (while supporting farming efforts at the same time!). The apple ginger turmeric vinegar and elderberry syrup are strong options, too. Or, what the heck, send the whole pack!

A black and white advertisement for Fizz Benefitz. The top half has a black background with white text: "Jewelry lost its shine?" and "SHINE better™" next to a diamond icon. A yellow banner in the middle says "Fizz can fix that." The bottom half has a white background with the Fizz Benefitz logo (three orange dots) and the text "A JEWELRY CLEANER MADE IN CONNECTICUT".

A red-bordered advertisement for The Bowerbird. At the top, it says "Captive. Educate. Inspire." Below this are two globes on stands: one of Earth and one of Jupiter. Text below the globes reads: "Silently rotating globes powered by solar energy and the Earth's magnetic field." At the bottom, the brand name "The Bowerbird" is flanked by two red bows.

Dagmar's Desserts, Old Saybrook

Cranberry Stollen for Christmas? Yes, please! While lots of us trek to Dagmar for her Buche de Noel, Flourless Chocolate Cake, and Linzer Tortes (among other goodies), she's happy to ship her Stollen to your friends and family. Three varieties in two sizes. (Also good news is local delivery of all baked goods).

Farm to Loaf! Chabaso & Atticus

You're probably very familiar with Chabaso breads but what you probably don't know is their shift (with their sister company Atticus Cafe in the Atticus Bookstore in New Haven) to baking artisanal bread with LOCAL grain. And in the spirit of fostering a local grain economy in the Northeast, they launched the Farm to Loaf gift bundle, offering a glimpse into products they've been making with grains sourced from farms in Connecticut and the Northeast. This bread-lovers pack contains Northeast Wheat Ciabatta Rolls, a dense and delish Danish Rye, ready-to-bake chocolate-orange scone mix, and a jar of Connecticut Honey.

What is Sexual Harassment? By Suisman Shapiro Attorneys-at-Law

This past summer, Governor Ned Lamont signed into law the Time's Up Act. This law offers more protections to victims of workplace sexual harassment. It also enforces stricter training standards and tougher penalties for noncompliant employers.

Sexual harassment is any type of unwelcome sexual advances, comments or conditions that create a hostile or offensive working environment and may involve:

- A superior's offer of promoting a subordinate in exchange for sexual favors
- A superior's threat of demotion (or some other negative outcome) if a subordinate refuses a sexual favor
- Uninvited touching in the workplace
- Inappropriate sexual comments in the workplace
- A company culture that permits sexually suggestive messaging, such as emails or posters

Attorney Ted Heiser can help if you are facing workplace harassment or discrimination. He has been named a top-rated Employment & Labor attorney by Super Lawyers since 2013. He practices at Suisman Shapiro Attorneys-at-Law, the largest law firm in eastern Connecticut.
