How to ID Your Company’s Cybersecurity Risks

Birmingham Manufacturing Gets Reawakened to the Value of Innovation

According to a 2018 IBM-sponsored study by the Ponemon Institute, the global average for a data breach is $3.86 million. That breaks down to almost $150 per stolen record. If you’re a small or medium-sized company, the damages can be catastrophic. Here are a few possible solutions for those problems with a new conference on cybersecurity risks.
