As the days go by it is easy to forget how much you have accomplished and how much you have helped. And be of help wherever you can.

Inspiring and enabling young people to stand up for a better future is timeless work. The Cleveland Foundation has been doing just that since 1920.

We have done this through the Cleveland Foundation Scholars Program, the Cleveland Knowledge Prize, and the Cleveland Future Leaders Program. These programs support talented, emerging leaders from across the country in the work of Cleveland’s public sector, providing them an opportunity to develop their skills, enhance their networks, and jumpstart a career in public service.

The Youth-to-Youth (Y2Y) Community of Networks is an initiative of the Global Youth Climate Network (GYCN) that mobilizes young people to address climate challenges through social change, civic engagement, and service.

The Y2Y Community is now developing the 2021 Climate Ambassador Program, which is designed to support young leaders in their efforts to address pressing climate questions and to develop leadership skills.

Cleveland Foundation and GYCN are excited to launch the 2021 Climate Ambassador Program. This year’s program will offer young professionals at the World Bank Group, is excited to launch the 2021 Climate Ambassador Program.

Fall 2020 Symposium on Community-Engaged Scholarship

An opportunity to learn about the results of our research on the impact of community-engagement initiatives.

Community Engaged Scholarship.

As you reflect on the past year and talk with family and friends, remember to think about all you have managed to do this year -- classes are online; we spend hours looking at computer screens; we work from home; we live in a time of great anxiety, fear, uncertainty, fragility, and hope.

It is okay to feel hopeful and to take a deep breath.
