Dear LSU Families,

As we move into summer, all Tigers are encouraged to stay active. UREC offers both on-campus and off-campus opportunities to stay physically active. From the LSU Student Recreation Center to group fitness classes, there are plenty of options for Tigers to keep their bodies healthy and strong.

Is your first-generation student receiving the support they need? Student Support Services (SSS) may be the key for your child to succeed at LSU. SSS is a federal grant that serves students who are the first in their family to attend college. They provide a wide range of support services, including academic coaching, personal and professional development opportunities, and help with career exploration. They also offer satellite services at the Baton Rouge Community College and East Baton Rouge Parish Community College.

As we celebrate the accomplished 2021 Tiger Twelve Class of 2021, let’s not forget those who have come before. The Tiger Twelve Class of 2021 is an award that is presented to 12 exceptional seniors every spring since 2003. To learn more about how parents can request access to the online Fee Bill from their students, go here. To find out more about Tiger Twelve, visit the website. Congratulations to the Tiger Twelve Class of 2021!

The LSU Student Health Center will be in-network with most major health insurance carriers for the 2021-2022 academic year. Students can now upload their health insurance card to support a seamless billing process, which will help to verify insurance and streamline the payment process. For more information, please visit the LSU Student Health Center website.

As we look ahead, we are excited to begin preparations for the fall semester. We are working on making the experience as seamless as possible for LSU students, faculty, and staff. This past year has tested everyone in our LSU community. Along with the challenges of the pandemic, we were also impacted by hurricanes, severe winter weather, and social justice issues. We continue to rely on many of the established safety and wellness measures we have taken this year. However, we are also making adjustments based on the latest guidance from health and safety experts to ensure our fall semester is as successful as possible.

As always, thank you for your continued support of our university. I am confident that everything we have encountered and overcome over the past year will make us even more resilient for the future. I am immensely proud of the accomplishments of our students, and I share in the pride you are feeling at this most challenging time. As you look forward to the beginning of a new academic year, I encourage you to begin to feel more and more like the one we love and cherish.

Sincerely,
