THOUGHTS OF THE DIRECTOR

Jen Stein

The DHS Centers of Excellence (COE) Summit was held from May 17-21, 2021, at a completely virtual format, the second in a record number of sessions (over 2,100) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

Contents of this Month's Update

- CINA's Distinguished Speaker Series
- To learn more about this exploration of the dark web, the open web, and the challenges facing today’s security professionals, the CINA team has compiled a detailed report highlighting the latest research and developments in the field.
- Their customers, which is often posted in vendors' threads, much as licit goods and services on the open web. The rise of the dark web is driven in part by the greater anonymity of sites not indexed by search engines. The dark web is home to firearms, stolen data and cybercrime services. This rise has been driven by the greater anonymity of sites not indexed by search engines. The dark web is home to firearms, stolen data and cybercrime services.
- To learn more about this exploration of the dark web, the open web, and the challenges facing today’s security professionals, the CINA team has compiled a detailed report highlighting the latest research and developments in the field.
- Faculty engagement between students and licensed security professionals through research and networking opportunities is key to the future of the field.
- The DHS Centers of Excellence Summit was held the week of May 17-21, 2021. In a completely virtual format, the summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

First Virtual DHS COE Summit Highlights COVID Operational Impact and Research

For the third time running, the DHS Centers of Excellence (COE) Summit was held the week of May 17-21, 2021. Leading up to this year’s events, CINA Science Director, Dr. Olga Smirnova, and the CINA team have been working closely with the DHS Office of University Programs, multiple DHS components, and the COEs to ensure that the summit is a success. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

RESEARCH

DHS Centers of Excellence Summit: Student Poster Session Spotlight

As the first virtual COE summit, the summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

DHS Centers of Excellence for Summit: Student Poster Session Spotlight

RESEARCH

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER SERIES

Digital Archive: Jeffrey Hardy on Illicit Copyright Piracy

Digital Archive: Jeffrey Hardy on Illicit Copyright Piracy

Jeffrey Hardy, CINA’s Distinguished Speaker Series Director, was the featured speaker in this month’s video. Hardy discussed the challenges of copyright piracy and how the COEs are working to combat it. The video included highlights of previous talks and upcoming events.

Shining a Light on the Dark Web

The first virtual COE summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

Digital Archive: Jeffrey Hardy on Illicit Copyright Piracy

Jeffrey Hardy, CINA’s Distinguished Speaker Series Director, was the featured speaker in this month’s video. Hardy discussed the challenges of copyright piracy and how the COEs are working to combat it. The video included highlights of previous talks and upcoming events.

Shining a Light on the Dark Web

The first virtual COE summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

Digital Archive: Jeffrey Hardy on Illicit Copyright Piracy

Jeffrey Hardy, CINA’s Distinguished Speaker Series Director, was the featured speaker in this month’s video. Hardy discussed the challenges of copyright piracy and how the COEs are working to combat it. The video included highlights of previous talks and upcoming events.

Shining a Light on the Dark Web

The first virtual COE summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.

Digital Archive: Jeffrey Hardy on Illicit Copyright Piracy

Jeffrey Hardy, CINA’s Distinguished Speaker Series Director, was the featured speaker in this month’s video. Hardy discussed the challenges of copyright piracy and how the COEs are working to combat it. The video included highlights of previous talks and upcoming events.

Shining a Light on the Dark Web

The first virtual COE summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security. The summit had a record number of registrants (over 1,200) including government, state and local agencies, industry, academia, and scientific experts. Over 1,200 respondents registered, with representation from 133 countries, including 130 organizations (2200 attendees), 120 state and local authorities, and 123 corporate partners. The summit featured a variety of presentations, workshops, and panel discussions, providing a comprehensive overview of the latest research and developments in homeland security.