

SEPTEMBER 2019

Welcome to the Richardson Design quarterly newsletter, where we update you on studio news, our latest projects, and elements of design we hope you find inspiring or worth sharing.

Richardson Design is heading into a busy fall season. We wanted to share with you what's been going on with our studio, introduce you to our newest team members, and share some recently completed projects. With a new fall season upon us, we are staying on top of the latest trends in fall color and texture as well as working with an active roster of clients “Creating the places where you want to be.” Our studio continues to produce top quality work on projects all over the United States and I am very proud of the great designs our team creates for our clients. You can always keep tabs on us via our social media platforms — Instagram, Facebook, LinkedIn, Twitter and Pinterest — where we'll share some sneak peeks of projects, things that inspire us, things that make us think and things we think you'll enjoy seeing. As always, thank you for reading.

Richardson Design Finds a Home in Hospitality

One of the reasons we founded our design studio in Cleveland was because we saw so much talent leaving Cleveland for jobs in other markets. Our customer-centric approach has allowed us to attract and retain top local talent who works on design projects not just locally, but all over the United States. Read more about our journey.

Welcome, Senior Interior Designer Kimberly Miller!

Richardson Design added to our roster of designers with Kimberly Miller, who joins us from Louis & Partners. Kimberly brings a great passion for design and she's a great fit for our growing design studio.

We're excited to have her on the team and want you to get to know her as well. Read more about Kimberly.

From Empty Warehouse to Modern Luxury Living: Scranton Road Residence

In partnership with Modern Smart Homes, Richardson Design turned this commercial warehouse into a unique living space. This project, for the homeowners, was a lifelong dream that was finally realized. See the photos of this gorgeous interior with its dramatic use of color and texture, maintaining the original details of the warehouse and elevating it to a stunning living space. This was a great residential project and the pictures speak for themselves. Enjoy the tour!

Welcome to Our Fall Interns!

We are excited for Johnny Colessi and Anya Polienko to join the Richardson Design Team this fall! Johnny is returning after his summer courses to assist our Graphics team. He is a Communication Design student at the University of Cincinnati. Anya is an Interior Architecture student at the Cleveland Institute of Art.

STEM Handmade Soaps Expands With Second Location in the Van Aken Market Hall

STEM Handmade Soaps in Lakewood, Ohio, is a beautiful retail spot with great handmade bath and body products. STEM even grows some of their own ingredients for their soaps and lotions, so when it came time to expand beyond the west side, they hired Richardson Design to help them create an engaging and welcoming space in the new Van Aken Market Hall in Shaker Heights, Ohio. We love this space and how this project turned out. Read about the work and see some photos of the completed space.

We love to travel and experience culture through design. Here's one of the ways we got out and enjoyed the summer. Tell us about your trips and share a summer photo by tagging us at @richardsondesign on Instagram.
