THE BEST IS YET TO COME

Many LSU alumni have been recognized among the nation's top students and professionals, including

Three were recognized with the Goldwater Scholarship for top-performing STEM students, while another received the Udall Scholarship for sophomore- and junior-level students who have demonstrated exceptional commitment to careers related to the environment. Additionally, three Tigers received graduate fellowships from the National Science Foundation, with 10 more continuing to break records and change lives while using their willingness to work hard, excel in their studies and still give back. Their achievements and impact don't end there. LSU engineering students are giving back by developing a beach cleanup system for low-tech environments.

LSU marketing students recently collected more than 2,800 pounds of food for the Greater Baton Rouge Food Bank; our LSU dance program raised over $200,000 for the annual Dance Marathon, and the LSU School of Landscape Architecture raised over $9,000 in its year-end snacks.

But there's more to come. LSU students extended their commitments and impact with the following achievements:

The LSU President's Council's goal is for 500 Tigers to give by commencement on May 10. Gifts of $5 or more to support our students for the upcoming school year.

The Student Philanthropy Council's goal is for 500 Tigers to give by commencement on May 10. Gifts of $5 or more to support our students for the upcoming school year.
