To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

4400 University Drive

Got this as a forward?
Manage

Contents of this Month's Update

September 2020

the strongest predictors of gang violence. 4) Social networks are crime, members select their own; 3) Gang cohesion matters for survival. Smaller gangs benefit laundering. The talk highlights how criminal organizations circumvent the payments and discuss how credit card transactions have increasingly become a conduit for money laundering.

Speakers

Wednesday, October 14, 2020, 12:00pm-1:30pm

Payment Ecosystem

Laundering and the Facilitation of Virtual Event/Transaction

Serving Institutions.

Department of Homeland Security (DHS) Summer Research Team (SRT) Program for Minority

New Mexico University explored the connections between Mexican trafficking organization. law enforcement agencies led to the dismantling of a large international sex walkthrough that describes how data analytics, AI, and collaboration with

Wednesday, September 16, 2020, 12:00pm-1:30pm

CINA Summer Research Team

Meet the Eastern New Mexico University

School of Policy and Government, Louise Shelley

Foreign Relations

The Evolution of Human Trafficking During

Research about human trafficking during a global pandemic.

My two big takeaways from this last year are (1) the only constant in life is (unexpected) change, and (2) a good organization and team sees the opportunities in such a dynamic director transition and the effects of the pandemic.

The Annual Meeting reflected on the last 12 months during which we helped plan and from the CINA Science Committee.

On August 4, 2020, we held our CINA Annual Meeting under these "new normal" circumstances - a virtual conference with over 100 attendees from government, industry, and academia, view-ahead video presentations from 15 different research teams complemented with research related to defunding the police and alternative ways to crime streets. A promising alternative to policing high-density urban areas.

A promising alternative to policing high-density urban areas.

Speakers

Wednesday, November 11, 2020, 12:00pm-1:30pm

Criminal Investigations and Network Analysis (CINA)

Transnational Crime Virtual Panel Discussion

Friday, September 18, 2020, 12:00pm-1:30pm

Discussion

What does it mean to "secure the homeland" in the twenty-first century? During this event, leading experts will provide strategic lessons and crucial recommendations for the future of homeland security.

CINA is seeking white papers presenting research ideas intended to increase research project agility and timeliness, continued a multi-

Open RFP

CINA Open RFP 20-21

You're invited to submit articles, photos, videos, and story ideas to include in upcoming

Visit our website’s digital archive to view more research and past events hosted by CINA.

Stay Connected