During this time, I have leaned primarily on my family members. They have been so helpful and understanding, even if they do not completely understand

What is the most surprising thing you have learned about yourself?

I have discovered that I am a very creative person. I love to draw and paint, and I have found that I can use my creativity to help me in my studies. I have also learned that I am capable of working independently, which is something I did not think I could do before.

What's keeping you motivated?

I am kept motivated by my desire to learn and grow. I want to be the best student I can be, and I know that I can achieve this by working hard and being dedicated to my studies.

What advice do you have for new students?

My advice to new students would be to stay focused and engaged. Learning remotely can be challenging, but it is also a great opportunity to develop your skills and learn new things. I would also encourage you to reach out and connect with classmates all around the globe. Don't be afraid to ask for help or to ask questions. Everyone has different strengths and weaknesses, and by working together, we can all learn from each other.
