This year’s competition will be fully virtual and applications are due October 25th. This is an opportunity for networking, expert mentoring and more. Participants will be challenged to think outside the box by coming up with ideas that can lead to a better world. The winners of the Red Bull Basement will have the chance to pitch their ideas at an event to be held in March. The competition is open to all students, regardless of major, and will focus on social impact and sustainability. The deadline for submissions is October 25th. For more information, please visit the Oppenheimer Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation website.

Do you own a business? Are you an aspiring entrepreneur? The ENTP Society is a community of entrepreneurs, innovators, and change makers. We aim to help improve entrepreneurial skills, help turn ideas into businesses, and further develop a growth mindset, engage in team collaboration, and build resilience. This club is open to all majors and helps both business owners and those who don’t own businesses. Meetings are biweekly either Wednesday or Sunday. Email me if you are interested in learning more about the club.

In their own words, five students reflect on what’s fall been like. They share how they are staying focused and engaged, where they are finding indoor and outdoor seating and all their drinks are fantastic. If you’re someone who enjoys coffee or tea, I highly recommend checking out the Whitehouse. They have a great selection of drinks and a comfortable atmosphere. The space is perfect for studying or working. The Whitehouse is located just a few blocks from campus and is easily accessible from the library or coaches.

The Oppenheimer Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation is a new center on campus. A major milestone for ENTP, the Oppenheimer Center for Entrepreneurship and Innovation is a resource for students interested in entrepreneurship. The center offers workshops, incubation sessions, and club speaker events. We are excited to offer opportunities to attend skill-building workshops, incubation sessions, and club speaker events. We have created a community of resilient problem solvers. Even though it might be a complicated time, here are their stories...
