This year's competition will be fully virtual and applications are due October 25th. Red Bull Basement challenges student innovators to come up with ideas that can lead to a better world. Red Bull gives wings to student entrepreneurs to drive positive change through its annual competition.

The ENTP Society is a community of resilient problem solvers. Even though it might be a tough time for now, college is still a fresh start. Get out of your comfort zone and own the experience. Learning remotely is like having your peas touching your mashed potatoes. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely requires a different type of resilience. What's keeping you motivated? Do you have new routines that make learning easier? We'd love to hear from you.

We started the school year at a distance, but our faculty and College leaders have been wonderful. We look forward to a productive year ahead. The pandemic has shifted the way in which we can support and encourage ourselves using positive self-talk and seeking out the support we need when we need it. We can meet with those who don't own businesses. Meetings are biweekly either Wednesday or Friday at 12 PM. The ENTP Society offers opportunities to attend and meet other student entrepreneurs. We help you further develop a growth mindset, engage in team collaboration, and build your network.

We asked your fellow Foresters for their advice on making it through this unique classroom experience. We heard from Marissa, a Grateful. Though I do miss the spontaneous day-to-day interaction with my classmates. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely is like having your peas touching your mashed potatoes. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely requires a different type of resilience. What's keeping you motivated? Do you have new routines that make learning easier? We'd love to hear from you.

We started the school year at a distance, but our faculty and College leaders have been wonderful. We look forward to a productive year ahead. The pandemic has shifted the way in which we can support and encourage ourselves using positive self-talk and seeking out the support we need when we need it. We can meet with those who don't own businesses. Meetings are biweekly either Wednesday or Friday at 12 PM. The ENTP Society offers opportunities to attend and meet other student entrepreneurs. We help you further develop a growth mindset, engage in team collaboration, and build your network.

We asked your fellow Foresters for their advice on making it through this unique classroom experience. We heard from Marissa, a Grateful. Though I do miss the spontaneous day-to-day interaction with my classmates. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely is like having your peas touching your mashed potatoes. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely requires a different type of resilience. What's keeping you motivated? Do you have new routines that make learning easier? We'd love to hear from you.

We started the school year at a distance, but our faculty and College leaders have been wonderful. We look forward to a productive year ahead. The pandemic has shifted the way in which we can support and encourage ourselves using positive self-talk and seeking out the support we need when we need it. We can meet with those who don't own businesses. Meetings are biweekly either Wednesday or Friday at 12 PM. The ENTP Society offers opportunities to attend and meet other student entrepreneurs. We help you further develop a growth mindset, engage in team collaboration, and build your network.

We asked your fellow Foresters for their advice on making it through this unique classroom experience. We heard from Marissa, a Grateful. Though I do miss the spontaneous day-to-day interaction with my classmates. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely is like having your peas touching your mashed potatoes. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely requires a different type of resilience. What's keeping you motivated? Do you have new routines that make learning easier? We'd love to hear from you.

We started the school year at a distance, but our faculty and College leaders have been wonderful. We look forward to a productive year ahead. The pandemic has shifted the way in which we can support and encourage ourselves using positive self-talk and seeking out the support we need when we need it. We can meet with those who don't own businesses. Meetings are biweekly either Wednesday or Friday at 12 PM. The ENTP Society offers opportunities to attend and meet other student entrepreneurs. We help you further develop a growth mindset, engage in team collaboration, and build your network.

We asked your fellow Foresters for their advice on making it through this unique classroom experience. We heard from Marissa, a Grateful. Though I do miss the spontaneous day-to-day interaction with my classmates. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely is like having your peas touching your mashed potatoes. Nobody requested the odd mix, but when approaching with an open mind, you can make it work. Learning remotely requires a different type of resilience. What's keeping you motivated? Do you have new routines that make learning easier? We'd love to hear from you.