Bryan started working at UC San Diego 25 years ago as a Letter Carrier in the Mail Services/Logistics. During his tenure with the University, Bryan's ability to innovate and build relationships with Mail Services/Logistics focusing on Campus Mail, Addressing Services, and Mailroom Support has been significant. Bryan's contributions have been recognized with Mail Services/Logistics, an agency that serves over 1,000 internal clients.

Bryan's expertise in assigning carriers and implementing new procedures has helped streamline the delivery process for the campus community. He has also worked closely with the campus community to ensure that the delivery of mail is completed in a timely and efficient manner.

Bryan's efforts have not only contributed to the success of Mail Services/Logistics, but they have also had a positive impact on the campus community. His dedication to his work and his commitment to providing excellent service to the campus community have earned him the respect and admiration of his colleagues and the campus community.

A true UC San Diego success story, Bryan's willingness to take on additional responsibilities and work collaboratively with his team members has earned him the praise and recognition of his colleagues. His contributions to Mail Services/Logistics and the campus community will not be forgotten.

Bryan will retire from UC San Diego on Wednesday, June 30, 2021. This is an occasion to celebrate Bryan's contributions to the University and his dedication to providing excellent service to the campus community. His legacy will be remembered and his contributions will continue to have a positive impact on the campus community for years to come.

As global climate disruption continues to impact our planet, it has become ever so clear how important it is to be environmentally conscious. With this in mind, UC San Diego is proud to announce the launch of its new Carbon Neutral Last-Mile initiative. This initiative will help to reduce the University's carbon footprint and promote sustainability.

As part of the initiative, UC San Diego is partnering with lifestyle brand REI to offer its employees the opportunity to purchase the REI Co-op Classic Bike. This bike is made from sustainable materials and is designed to promote a healthy and active lifestyle.

To help you locate small business suppliers, the University of California has partnered with the Small Business Development Office to provide access to the largest and most complete small businesses database that is available. This database provides access to the largest and most complete small businesses database that is available. To learn more about this partnership, please visit the Small Business Development Office website.

During his tenure with the University, Bryan's ability to innovate and build relationships with Mail Services/Logistics focusing on Campus Mail, Addressing Services, and Mailroom Support has been significant. Bryan's contributions have been recognized with Mail Services/Logistics, an agency that serves over 1,000 internal clients.

Bryan's expertise in assigning carriers and implementing new procedures has helped streamline the delivery process for the campus community. He has also worked closely with the campus community to ensure that the delivery of mail is completed in a timely and efficient manner.

Bryan's efforts have not only contributed to the success of Mail Services/Logistics, but they have also had a positive impact on the campus community. His dedication to his work and his commitment to providing excellent service to the campus community have earned him the respect and admiration of his colleagues and the campus community.

A true UC San Diego success story, Bryan's willingness to take on additional responsibilities and work collaboratively with his team members has earned him the praise and recognition of his colleagues. His contributions to Mail Services/Logistics and the campus community will not be forgotten.

Bryan will retire from UC San Diego on Wednesday, June 30, 2021. This is an occasion to celebrate Bryan's contributions to the University and his dedication to providing excellent service to the campus community. His legacy will be remembered and his contributions will continue to have a positive impact on the campus community for years to come.