For more detailed information about the conduct process, please check out the Student Conduct page of the Student Conduct website for a full description of the process.

Sometimes students find their choices putting them in conflict with the Student Code of Conduct and/or imposing unexpected and undesirable consequences (typically noise, underage drinking, and/or other alcohol/marijuana related violations). These consequences and conflicts are a result of their activity. The Student Code of Conduct recognizes this and states that 'the University’s primary objective is to assist students in making responsible decisions and choices.'

Should your student need to navigate the University conduct process during the academic year, visit the Office of Student Conduct. Students can participate in scheduled conduct meetings and/or hearings. The conduct process is designed to be inclusive of students and considers individual circumstances.

The conduct process is posted on the Conduct Process page of the Student Conduct website.

We encourage your student to:

- Understanding the conduct process
- Encouraging their peers

Students do not need to be extroverts to connect with their peers at WCU. With nearly 300 student organizations, there is a home for everyone on our campus, no matter their interests or values.

On Tuesday, October 1, WCU’s Office of Off Campus and Commuter Services will host a presentation focused on the housing search process in the following ways:

1. First-year and returning students can meet with representatives from the residence halls to learn more about their housing options.
2. Students can attend a Moving Off Campus session in one of the residence halls. Encourage your student to ask a Resident Assistant when the session is occurring.
3. Attend a Student Union to meet property owners and explore the different housing options off campus.
4. Attend a presentation on the process of Searching for Housing.
5. Off Campus and Commuter Services wants to help your student with their off campus housing search.

We know we are just starting the school year; however, if your student is considering living off-campus, please direct them to the Office of Off Campus and Commuter Services for more information. We can help your student with their off-campus housing search.

A Message from President Fiorentino

To continue receiving our emails, add us to your address book.

Thank you for choosing WCU for your student's college experience. As President of WCU, I am committed to providing our students with a world-class education and an environment that sets them up for success. We encourage our students to get involved on campus and engage in activities that align with their interests.

Student Success is about what happens in the classroom, but it's also about what happens when students engage in their community. At WCU, we believe that student involvement has positive effects on academic achievement. Plus, there's no doubt it makes student life more enjoyable.

There are so many opportunities for students to get involved on campus. From student organizations to community service opportunities, there is a home for everyone on our campus, no matter their interests. We want our students to find their passion and explore new possibilities.

We are proud of our student involvement on campus. Students who are involved in their community tend to have higher grades and increased sense of personal well-being. It's also true that students who are involved in their community are more likely to graduate on time.

As students explore the freedom of college life, we encourage them to consider joining a student organization. There is a home for everyone on our campus, and we want our students to find their passion.

On September 30, the Off Campus and Commuter Services will host a presentation on the process of Searching for Housing. This presentation will provide information on how to search for housing, tips for finding the right place, and contact information for off-campus housing resources.

We hope you find this information helpful and we look forward to supporting your student on their college journey.

As always, please reach out with any questions, comments, or concerns. We are here to support you and your student.
