Tips & Tricks

Filling in Chart String Fields in Concur Tip

When filling in your chart string information in a Request or an Expense Report in Concur, avoid selecting from the Most Recently Used Section when the dropdown appears.

The reason for this is because the Most Recently Used selections might contain outdated data which would cause validation issues when trying to save the specific field.

A screenshot of a web form with a dropdown menu for 'Approver'. The dropdown is open, showing a search bar with 'Search by Code' and a list of users. The first item, '(UCSD-5000051-coa1@ucsd.edu) COA1 TEST USER', is highlighted in yellow and labeled 'Most Recently Used'. Other users listed include Norton, Nancy-(SD), Lay, Michael-(SD), and Huh, Jee-(SD). A red error message 'This field is missing required information.' is visible above the dropdown. The 'Approver' label has a red asterisk and a '3' in a circle.

A second screenshot of the same 'Approver' dropdown menu. The list is scrolled down, showing users like Norton, Nancy-(SD), Lay, Michael-(SD), and Huh, Jee-(SD). A red box highlights the bottom three items: '(coa1@ucsd.edu) COA1 TEST USER', '(jyhuh@ucsd.edu) Huh, Jee-(SD)', and '(mlay@ucsd.edu) Lay, Michael-(SD)'. The red error message and the 'Approver' label with the '3' in a circle are still present.
