Inclusive teaching efforts at the University of Oregon are getting a big boost with a $500,000 grant from the Howard Hughes Medical Institute to support effective and inclusive teaching. This award amounts to nearly $500,000, which will fund projects that support teaching development, faculty leadership and resource-sharing, and the creation of new tools to better understand the prevalence and impacts of inclusive teaching practices.

Join us for the Inclusive Teaching webinar on Friday, April 21, from 1:30 to 3:00 pm in Tykeson 140.

Regular and Substantive Interaction: A 3-hr workshop, April 5:
Academia: Your Partner's The Workshop & Discussion: A 3-hr workshop, April 5:

Design Strategies: A 1.5-hr virtual training, June 13:

The award amounts to nearly $500,000, which will fund projects that support teaching development, faculty leadership and resource-sharing, and the creation of new tools to better understand the prevalence and impacts of inclusive teaching practices.

Spring 2023 Course Resources: Find resources and tools to enhance your teaching experience and prepare your students for success.

• Availability: Canvas includes a tool that allows students to access the course, streamline attendance reporting, and define and improve academic integrity.
• A "Starting Syllabus" that includes all required policies as well as many sample course policies—even new samples related to critical consciousness. Key spring term dates.
• Samples of optional course policies.
• A resource on recommended practices for the effective implementation of Canvas.

Exam proctoring for online classes: These services will be available beginning Monday, April 3, and will be offered as part of the existing proctoring service on campus. If you use the UO Online Exam Center to proctor exams for online classes, please inform students of this temporary location change.

Academic Impressions: Learn to access these free professional development resources.

• 3-hr workshop, April 5: Academia: Your Partner's A Workshop & Discussion series on Improving Your Wellbeing
• 2-hr virtual training, June 13: Building Agency in Your Mid-Career as Faculty

Awards & Opportunities
Graduate Education Excellence Awards: Nominate graduate students for the Teaching, Leadership, and Community Engagement Awards as well as other opportunities.

Applications by April 14, 2023-24 Provost Fellows: Applications for Teaching, Leadership, and Community Engagement Awards are open, as is a new professional development opportunity for mid-career faculty.

Sustainability Fellows: This competitive program provides opportunities for sustainable teaching at the college and school level; and for funding research on environmental sustainability action as well as doing participation action research as part of the Philpott Futures Initiative.

Environmental Initiative Curriculum Seed Funding: Proposals should focus on projects that involve research with real-world leverage and leverage strengths across the university.

Events & Workshops
Back to School: Will You Open a Seat in Your Spring Class? We invite you to open up a fall or spring class for students, and encourage you to establish a community space where students can come together to learn about the experiences and voices of Black creative writers who are also teachers.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join this community partner event that is intended for educators to explore how to incorporate Black literature and conversations on Black literary craft into their own work. On April 18, we will be opening up this public event to the public and will provide a $500 stipend for the Faculty Success: Inclusive Recruitment and Retention efforts.

Virtual Workshop: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

Professional Development Resources
Academia: Your Partner’s A Workshop & Discussion series on Improving Your Wellbeing

Teaching, Learning, and Conversation on Accessible, Equitable, and Inclusive Teaching and Learning: Join us this term as we explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.

Teaching Black: The Craft of Teaching on Black Life & Literature: Join us on April 18 to explore emerging issues in teaching at UO and generate actionable steps to use in your classrooms.

LISB 217 or via Zoom
Thursdays at 9:00am

Checkpoints: Mentorship Program for Faculty, Scholars, and Community Partners: Apply by April 17.