Experience the 'Living Museum' at Robert Churchwell Elementary School

At first glance, Robert Churchwell Museum Magnet Elementary School looks like any other school, with big glass windows and a sign out front welcoming students. But inside, there is a buzz of activity from classroomsAmount of data to be provided in the response.}

Part of the experience is inside the school. Students are perusing colorful murals, reading student-created posters, and interacting with the community. The walls are adorned with murals and posters, all displaying the school's values and mission.