January 2024

Dear Colleague,

We made it through the first month of 2024! This was a huge accomplishment for me, as it's typically one of the coldest months in Saskatchewan. This year we spent 10 days in -45 degree (C & F) weather.

Thankfully I talk about Africa for a large part of my day, so it's easy to escape my chilly reality by imagining the warm sun and flourishing nature that envelopes the African bush.

Speaking of which, we're pleased to welcome the newest member to our portfolio — Garonga Safari Co. in South Africa! Garonga's three safari camps are situated in the 27,000-hectares Greater Makalali Private Nature Reserve, just north of Hoedspruit and not far from Kruger National Park in Limpopo Province.

Lastly, if you're in Winnipeg, Victoria or Vancouver in February, shoot me a message and let's get together. And don't forget our Emerging Destinations March Road Show stopping in San Diego, Orange County, Los Angeles, New York, Boston and Philadelphia. Let us know if you want to meet the entire Emerging Destinations portfolio live and in person!

Happy February everyone!

Jenna, Ana, Paula and Jane

What's Gnu at Mara Siana?

Sure, the Great Migration is awesome to behold. But Ripoi Conservancy in the Masai Mara is also blessed with resident (year-round) wildebeest, which love to gather around the watering hole at Mara Siana Camp.

One of East Africa's iconic mammals, the western white-bearded wildebeest (Connochaetes taurinus mearnsi) is considered a keystone species of the greater Serengeti-Masai Mara ecosystem.

Uganda Welcomes Baby Tigers

As the Pearl of Africa celebrated her 61st independence anniversary in 2023, Uganda expanded its tiger family by two.

The Entebbe based Uganda Wildlife Education Centre (UWEC), home to the only tigers in East Africa, received a set of twins on 22nd September. Born to "Brown" (the mother) and "Yura" (the dad), the two little big cats are in good health and doing well. The center plans to organize a naming ceremony for the babies soon. Read More
