VIP MY CLIENTS!

PORTFOLIO PROMOTIONS & UPDATES

Dear Colleague,

First of all, how are you? Please know that you are not alone and we are here for you -- even if you just need a shoulder to cry on.

We are all in the same situation and we, too, feel your pain. Jenna from our team is stuck in Peru, awaiting the Canadian government to work out a deal to get people home; Ana is living under Martial Law in Argentina; Jessie and I are in much better shape here in Atlanta. (The major question here is "Is it the pollen, or am I sick?")

We debated as a team as to whether we should send out our monthly newsletter and decided we should for several reasons:

- Continuity and a sense of normalcy for our clients and our team.
- We need to share updates and upcoming deals with you from our clients.
- We hope our email is a bit of an escape for a few minutes to visit our cool companies & cool places.
- Now is the perfect time to learn and we have a few new webinars planned. We also have a library of previously recorded ones. (see below!)

Also, we do have some new initiatives such as a link to current Coronavirus updates and specials from our portfolio as well as a new VIP your clients option.

As always, lots of news and specials from our cool companies in The Americas. Feel free to use our content for your social media, newsletters, etc!

We will get through this!

Guyana's Caiman House: Home Sweet Home in the Amazon

Trips into the jungle should be epic — think of Conrad's Heart of Darkness or Coppola's Apocalypse Now! — and this one is no different.

Reaching Yupukari village in the Guyana interior requires a flight from Georgetown to Lethem in the Amazon Basin and then a 4x4 journey MORE

Catch the Patagonia Solar Eclipse with Cruce Andino

Patagonia goes dark in December 2020 as a solar eclipse sweeps across the bottom end of South America. And Cruce Andino is offering a very special way to view this once-in-a-lifetime phenomenon while traveling through the Andes between Chile and Argentina.

There's still space left on Andes crossings on and around December 14th. MORE
