IPL (photofacial) is a pulsed light treatment that targets the pigmented brown spots caused by sun damage. The light penetrates through the skin and is absorbed by the pigmentation. The lesion will darken before it flakes off or is absorbed by the body. Treatments can be done as frequently as every three weeks.

For optimal results, a series of 3 treatments is recommended. Most patients see significant improvement in 1 to 3 treatments. Annual follow-up treatments may be desired to maintain results.

First treatment must be completed in November.

Special available with Erin Lambert, Christi Vogt, Erin Larson, and Amber Schultz.

Now is the perfect time to use a product to brighten skin and decrease brown spots.
