A Reflection from your University Chaplain

Dear Tufts community,

Since August, a cohort of Tufts staff from across the Medford-Somerville campus have been meeting monthly to explore, trouble, and synonymize a single word: vocation. We've read and listened to scholars and practitioners across disciplines. We've engaged in fruitful small group and cohort conversations. We've drawn and journaled. And best of all, we've gotten to know one another as fellow human beings who are ever figuring out our own professional and personal journeys. And it's all been for a meaningful purpose: to figure out how we might co-create opportunities for vocational reflection and discernment for and with our diverse student communities.

Come February, it was time to synthesize the cohort's insights into a draft definition of vocation; our goal was to craft a definition of vocation that would work specifically for Tufts. A small group met one sunny, cold afternoon at Goddard Chapel and soon we were swimming in a sea of sentences and images - how could we contain this idea we've been expanding for months? And then, in what was sort of a magical moment, born of the brainstorming that happens amidst both a spell of creativity and real-world time crunch, the right words emerged. Vocation, we concluded, is life-affirming work* (yes that asterisk is intentional). Rarely before had I been so excited about a punctuation mark, about how it signaled the depth and breadth of each word in that definition.

Now it's April, and tomorrow evening at Balch Theater, a group of invited students, alumni, faculty and staff will gather for a public conversation about vocation. We've asked them to each to respond to our draft definition of vocation as life-affirming work*, and if the preparatory conversations are any indication, this will be an hour of deep reflection, great storytelling, critical engagement, and real connection. I hope that you will join us, and that you will be pondering the people, the work, the communities, the ideas, and the aspirations that are life-affirming for you.

Thanks to a grant from the Network for Vocation in Undergraduate Education for this academic year, the University Chaplaincy team has joined with members of the Career Center, Academic Advising, the Division of Student Diversity and Inclusion, Tisch Library, and Global Education for monthly conversations related to engaging diverse voices and perspectives on the meaning of vocation. We are now excited to welcome the Tufts community to a showcase featuring students, faculty and staff who will join us in engaging our new working definition of vocation as life-affirming work.* Join us for an interactive and creative conversation, and add your wisdom and insight to this process!

Nominate a graduating senior or young alum for University Chaplaincy Awards Night

Nominations due by 11:59 p.m. on Monday, April 22

This year, the University Chaplaincy hosts its third annual celebration to honor and uplift the wonderful contributions of our seniors and young alumni across all of our religious and philosophical communities. Our Senior & Young Alumni Awards provide an opportunity for our community to nominate and celebrate our graduating seniors and recent alumni, and the awards are themed according to our core mission commitments: pastoral/spiritual care; supporting religious, spiritual, and philosophical communities; education on spiritual and ethical issues; and multifaith engagement. The Young Alumni award is for a recent graduate (2019-2023) who has provided leadership for current students and the University Chaplaincy through offering support, encouragement, guidance and engagement. A committee composed of chaplains and students will select the winners.

We encourage you to nominate a graduating student or young alum through the form below. You are welcome to submit more than one nomination, as well as nominate yourself. You can nominate anonymously or share your name and email. Sharing your information ensures that you will be notified of the final awards decisions and Senior Award Celebration. All nominees will be honored at our celebration, featuring delicious food and mocktails, at the Interfaith Center on Wednesday, May 1, from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Please reach out to University Chaplain Elyse Nelson Winger with any questions.

Upcoming Religious Celebrations and Observances

To see more upcoming religious holidays and festivals, including information about seeking religious accommodations at Tufts, please follow the link to the Tufts Multifaith Calendar.

Great Lent

Mon., Mar. 18 – Sat., May 4, 2024

Tradition: Christianity-Orthodox

In Orthodox churches, the first day of Lent marks the beginning of the Great Fast, the final six weeks of a 10-week period leading up to Holy Week and Easter (Pascha). In the churches that follow the Gregorian calendar, Lent is a six-week observance (40 days excluding Sundays) beginning with Ash Wednesday and culminating in Holy Week. It is a time of repentance and sacrifice in preparation for Easter.

Ridvan

Fri., Apr. 19 – Tue., Apr. 30, 2024

Tradition: Baha'i

Commemorates the 12 days that Baha'u'llah spent in the Garden of Ridvan in the last days of his exile in Baghdad, during which time he proclaimed himself as the one announced by Bab. Work is suspended for the first, ninth, and twelfth days.

Mahavir Jayanti

Sun., Apr. 21, 2024

Tradition: Jainism

Celebrates the birthday of Lord Mahavira. Born with the name Vardhamana in ca. 599 BCE, he was later given the titles of honor, Mahavira ("Great Hero") and Jina ("Conqueror" or "Victor"), a title applied also to the other Tirthankaras.

Passover (Pesach)

Mon., Apr. 22 – Tue., Apr. 30, 2024

Tradition: Judaism

Passover commemorates the deliverance of the Israelites from slavery in Egypt. It is celebrated for eight days with special prayers and symbolic foods at home, starting with the Seder, a ritual meal that re-enacts that ancient deliverance and emphasizes the freedom of the Jews under the guidance of God. The first two and the last two days are holidays.

Palm Sunday

Sun., Apr. 28, 2024

Tradition: Christianity-Orthodox

Celebrates the entry of Jesus into Jerusalem, marking the beginning of Holy Week that culminates in Easter or Pascha. In some churches, Palm Sunday is combined with the anticipation of Christ's death and so is also known as "Passion Sunday." Orthodox Christians often observe this Sunday on a date different from the date on which Protestant and Roman Catholics observe it.

Beltane

Tue., Apr. 30, 2024

Tradition: Wicca/Paganism

The final fertility festival, celebrating the Earth's fecundity and anticipating the power of the sun and the Earth in summer.

Ghambar Maidyozarem

Tue., Apr. 30 – Sat., May 4, 2024

Tradition: Zoroastrianism

Celebrates the creation of the sky and harvesting of the winter crop.
