Dear Tufts community,

Since August, a cohort of Tufts staff from across the Medford-Somerville campus have been meeting monthly to explore, trouble, and synonymize a single word: vocation. We’ve read and listened to scholars and practitioners across disciplines. We’ve engaged in fruitful small group and cohort conversations. We’ve drawn and journaled. And best of all, we’ve gotten to know one another as fellow human beings who are ever figuring out our own professional and personal journeys. And it’s all been for a meaningful purpose: to figure out how we might co-create opportunities for vocational reflection and discernment for and with our diverse student communities.

Come February, it was time to synthesize the cohort’s insights into a draft definition of vocation; our goal was to craft a definition of vocation that would work specifically for Tufts. A small group met one sunny, cold afternoon at Goddard Chapel and soon we were swimming in a sea of sentences and images - how could we contain this idea we’ve been expanding for months? And then, in what was sort of a magical moment, born of the brainstorming that happens amidst both a spell of creativity and real-world time crunch, the right words emerged. Vocation, we concluded, is life-affirming work* (yes that asterisk is intentional). Rarely before had I been so excited about a punctuation mark, about how it signaled the depth and breadth of each word in that definition.

Now it’s April, and tomorrow evening at Balch Theater, a group of invited students, alumni, faculty and staff will gather for a public conversation about vocation. We’ve asked them to each to respond to our draft definition of vocation as life-affirming work*, and if the preparatory conversations are any indication, this will be an hour of deep reflection, great storytelling, critical engagement, and real connection. I hope that you will join us, and that you will be pondering the people, the work, the communities, the ideas, and the aspirations that are life-affirming for you.

AN EVENING OF DISCUSSION ON

Vocation: life affirming work*

April 18  |  6:00 to 7:15 PM  |  Balch Theater

*work: your relationships, studies, paid jobs, labors of love, community roles, service, organizing, hopes, purpose, growth, and more

Through stories and sharing, we will hear wisdom and questions from students, staff, faculty, and alumni about their work*

RSVP by April 16.
Thanks to a grant from the Network for Vocation in Undergraduate Education for this academic year, the University Chaplaincy team has joined with members of the Career Center, Academic Advising, the Division of Student Diversity and Inclusion, Tisch Library, and Global Education for monthly conversations related to engaging diverse voices and perspectives on the meaning of vocation. We are now excited to welcome the Tufts community to a showcase featuring students, faculty and staff who will join us in engaging our new working definition of vocation as life-affirming work.* Join us for an interactive and creative conversation, and add your wisdom and insight to this process!

Nominate a graduating senior or young alum for University Chaplaincy Awards Night

Nominations due by 11:59 p.m., on Monday, April 22

This year, the University Chaplaincy hosts its third annual celebration to honor and uplift the wonderful contributions of our seniors and young alumni across all of our religious and philosophical communities. Our Senior & Young Alumni Awards provide an opportunity for our community to nominate and celebrate our graduating seniors and recent alumni, and the awards are themed according to our core mission commitments: pastoral/spiritual care; supporting religious, spiritual, and philosophical communities; education on spiritual and ethical issues; and multifaith engagement. The Young Alumni award is for a recent graduate (2019-2023) who has provided leadership for current students and the University Chaplaincy through offering support, encouragement, guidance and engagement. A committee composed of chaplains and students will select the winners.

We encourage you to nominate a graduating student or young alum through the form below. You are welcome to submit more than one nomination, as well as nominate yourself. You can nominate anonymously or share your name.
and email. Sharing your information ensures that you will be notified of the final awards decisions and Senior Award Celebration. All nominees will be honored at our celebration, featuring delicious food and mocktails, at the Interfaith Center on Wednesday, May 1, from 5:00 p.m. to 6:00 p.m. Please reach out to University Chaplain Elyse Nelson Winger with any questions.

How can we navigate the challenges posed by the "tyranny of the historical present"?

In the presence of gross atrocities and pervasive polarization, how do we foster caring relationships?

What steps can we take to envision flourishing futures for everyone?

Join the Humanist Chaplaincy for an engaging dinner and conversation series aimed at tackling these questions. We’ll explore the themes of trauma, repair, and re-worlding as we seek meaningful insights together.

Great Lent
Mon., Mar. 18 – Sat., May 4, 2024
Tradition: Christianity-Orthodox
In Orthodox churches, the first day of Lent marks the beginning of the Great Fast, the final six weeks of a 10-week period leading up to Holy Week and Easter (Pascha). In the churches that follow the Gregorian calendar, Lent is a six-week observance (40 days excluding Sundays) beginning with Ash Wednesday and culminating in Holy Week. It is a time of repentance and sacrifice in preparation for Easter.

Ridvan
Fri., Apr. 19 – Tue., Apr. 30, 2024
Tradition: Baha'i
Commemorates the 12 days that Baha'u'llah spent in the Garden of Ridvan in the last days of his exile in Baghdad, during which time he proclaimed himself as the one announced by Bab. Work is suspended for the first, ninth, and
