Save the Date: ScienceConnect 2021

Hear Hector Pollitt, Director and the Head of Modelling at Cambridge Econometrics and Bence Kiss-Dobrony,
February 5, 2021 | 10 a.m.
Colloquium on Computational Social Science/Computational Data Sciences

event probabilities in systems governed by PDEs.

Attend Friday’s CMAI event to hear Georg Stadler from New York University discuss estimation of extreme
February 5, 2021 | 10 a.m.
Center for Mathematics and Artificial Intelligence (CMAI) Colloquium trust behavior over time.
interactions of psychoeconomic components engage domain-general large-scale brain networks in shaping School of Systems Biology’s, Frank Krueger, sketches out an integrative NPE model that explains how the February 4, 2021 | 6:45 to 9 p.m.
Economics

Galileo Science Cafe: Toward a Model of Interpersonal Trust Drawn from Neuroscience, Psychology, and Science Codex

Fatah Kashanchi
By Elizabeth Grisham
production of infectious large extracellular and Human Services (National Institutes of Health) and Harvard University By Mary Beth Laychak and Tracy Mason

Wednesday, February 3, 2021
Science Codex

testing capabilities on its campuses this spring. Both Mason announced last week that it is introducing a rapid-testing and tracking gaining Mason’s expanded COVID-19

Awards
Faculty encouraged to apply for the new College of Science Seed Awards and enable investigators to explore new areas of connection between the investigators in the college offered by the College of Science for up to $50,000.

Message from the Dean
By Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

This year, the College of Science will honor and celebrate prominent African American scientists from past, present, and future. Throughout the month, in addition to highlighting Did you know the commemoration’s start had local origins? First celebrated as Negro History Week
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

describes how it evolved from the second week in February to the month-long commemoration we have derived in part by noted Virginia-born and Harvard-trained historian, educator and since 1926, the concept of promoting achievements by Black Americans and other peoples of African descent was created in part by noted Virginia-born and Harvard-trained historian, educator and indeed once, President Ronald Reagan once said, "Understanding the history of Black Americans is a key to understanding the strength of our nation."

President Gregory Washington talks with On the latest “Access to Excellence” podcast,

Listen to the podcast

Opportunities in the College of Science

Happening at Mason

Women are impacted by COVID-19
testing and tracking gaining evidence of inequity in the United States. New research from Mason trueRemove®

Dr. Lance Liotta
By Mary Beth Laychak

A new program tracking effects of exercise on smoking cessation is offered by the College of Science’s
Department of Science, Technology, Medicine and Society and the Schar School of Policy and Government
trueRemove®

Did you know the commemoration’s start had local origins? First celebrated as Negro History Week
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

Dr. Lance Liotta
By Mary Beth Laychak

A new program tracking effects of exercise on
smoking cessation is offered by the College of Science’s
Department of Science, Technology, Medicine and Society
and the Schar School of Policy and Government
trueRemove®

Did you know the commemoration’s start had local origins? First celebrated as Negro History Week
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

Dr. Lance Liotta
By Mary Beth Laychak

A new program tracking effects of exercise on
smoking cessation is offered by the College of Science’s
Department of Science, Technology, Medicine and Society
and the Schar School of Policy and Government
trueRemove®

Did you know the commemoration’s start had local origins? First celebrated as Negro History Week
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

Dr. Lance Liotta
By Mary Beth Laychak

A new program tracking effects of exercise on
smoking cessation is offered by the College of Science’s
Department of Science, Technology, Medicine and Society
and the Schar School of Policy and Government
trueRemove®

Did you know the commemoration’s start had local origins? First celebrated as Negro History Week
by Dean Fernando R. Miralles-Wilhelm
Understanding the past to build a brighter future

Dr. Lance Liotta
By Mary Beth Laychak

A new program tracking effects of exercise on
smoking cessation is offered by the College of Science’s
Department of Science, Technology, Medicine and Society
and the Schar School of Policy and Government
trueRemove®