

The annual first grade Tea Party is fast approaching. For more than five years now in preparation for the party, Mrs. Echols, our lower school Ex Ed teacher, comes to read Saturdays and Teacakes to the students and brings her home baked teacakes to share with them. This lesson helps first grade to understand ways the British tea parties influenced Southern tea and traditions.

Each day when your student walks through the doors of CSLA the hope is that they know they are loved unconditionally. This board put up by one of our art teachers Ms. Kent, is a welcoming reminder. She listed every student and employee by name on these hearts.

4th grade was on a mission to explore light and wave behaviors last week! Thanks to parent volunteers and 2 AMAZING 4th grade teachers a "cave" was created in both Mrs. Godbout's and Ms. Cherry's room by blocking light from all the windows. In the "caves" students played with mirrors, lasers and prisms. Some of the 4th graders enjoyed teaching what they were learning to our 1st grade visiting scientists who are also covering similar topics.

Students are currently prepping with Coach White and Coach Basler for the Kids Heart Challenge starting next week with American Heart Association. You can help your students raise money for this cause!
