THOUGHTS FROM THE DIRECTOR

January 2021

I began serving as CINA Director one year ago. As we close out that first year, we have accomplished many significant things. The CINA team has continued to grow as we seek new talent to join our mission to advance the science, technology, research, and applications of network analysis and criminal investigations.

I am grateful to all of you who supported and executed the many tasks necessary to get to where we are today. As we start a new year, I look forward to our continued mutual success going forward.

CINA's 2021 Annual RFP Open for Submissions

Nationally, the CINA team for your participation has been pleased to work with our partners on Open RFPs, to support awareness for this important part of our mission.

DISTINGUISHED SPEAKER SERIES:

March 17 - Cryptocurrencies and Criminal Investigations

April 14 - Fighting ISIL Threat in the Form of Trademark Counterfeiting and Copyrighty Faking

National Human Trafficking Awareness Day

I also learned that from clarity of mission comes a strategy and actions, and this gets and keeps everyone rowing in the same direction, focused on our collectively prioritized results.

I began serving as CINA Director one year ago, and the other day was asked what I had learned in that first year. It turns out that fighting Transnational Criminal Organizations (TCOs) is hard. This won't be a surprise to most of you reading this, but spending time closer with the CINA team for your participation has been very rewarding. We are here to serve in a critical role of advancing the science and technology of criminal network analysis and criminal investigations.
