THOUGHTS FROM THE DIRECTOR

Jim Jones

CINA’s National Security Center of Excellence, founded with 2019-2020 rolling Open RFP funds, has completed its three-year term.

The National Security Center of Excellence, a joint initiative between CINA and FLETC, was conceived with a clear purpose and strategic, thoughtful decisions over the first three years of operation. Those thoughtful decisions rely on a deep understanding of the DHS problem space. We identified areas to drive innovation and a set of goals in that space.

As we prepare to release our next annual RFP in December 2020, we want to say thank you to all who continue to help us build a dynamic center of excellence and support our operation. Those thoughtful decisions rely on a deep understanding of the DHS problem space. As we progress through our fourth year of operation, we have three projects preparing to enter transition activities and a portfolio of other projects in various stages of maturity that will impact. One of the CINA center’s metrics for success is the transition of our research into operational impact. This engine of innovation and future impact is no accident, but rather the product of a center conceived with a clear purpose and strategic, thoughtful decisions over the first three years of operation. Those thoughtful decisions rely on a deep understanding of the DHS problem space.
