November 2019

Projects

Apply for Funding

Project Highlight

Legal Literacies for Text Data Mining Institute

External Opportunities

Project Videos

Fall Events

Introduction to Text Mining Workshop

Interested in learning about text mining, data analysis, and data visualization? Join us on October 25 for a day-long workshop to learn about tools, methods, and case studies. Register here.

Apply for Funding

Our first funding application deadline is November 15, 2019. Grants are available to support the costs of developing digital humanities projects at any stage. Learn more about the application process and eligibility criteria.

Related Events

Gender and Sexuality in Information Studies Colloquium 2020

Calling all researchers and practitioners interested in exploring the intersections of gender, sexuality, and information. This colloquium will feature talks, panel discussions, and workshops on topics such as digital methods, queer archiving, and feminist research. Register for free.

Project Highlights

"Estrellita (Little Star)"

Join us for the world premiere of "Estrellita (Little Star)", a digital humanities project examining the life and work of important figures in Latin American literature. This project was made possible by a grant from the DLA and the support of our partners. Watch the trailer here.

External Opportunities

Deadline for applications: December 20, 2019

Barnard College Digital Humanities Center

The Barnard College Digital Humanities Center is seeking postdoctoral fellows to join its team. The fellowship involves teaching and research, with a focus on digital humanities projects and pedagogy. Applications are due by January 15, 2020. Learn more.

US L. Latino Digital Humanities CFP

The US L. Latino Digital Humanities Center is seeking proposals for digital humanities projects that focus on the experiences of Latinx communities in the United States. Projects may address a variety of topics, such as immigration, identity, and culture. Deadline for submissions: November 15, 2019.

Subscribe to our email list.

Read on for news from the DLA about what we’re up to this year and how we can help you.

The Digital Caribbean: VI Symposium

The Digital Caribbean: VI Symposium will bring together scholars and practitioners to discuss the latest developments in digital humanities research and practice in the Caribbean. The symposium will feature keynote addresses, panel discussions, and workshops on topics such as digital methods, archiving, and public engagement. Register here.

Legal Literacies for Text Data Mining Institute

We will hold a one-day workshop on legal literacy for text data mining on November 16, 2019. The workshop will focus on using natural language processing techniques to analyze legal documents and identify relevant legal issues. Register here.

US L. Latino Digital Humanities CFP

The US L. Latino Digital Humanities Center is seeking proposals for digital humanities projects that focus on the experiences of Latinx communities in the United States. Projects may address a variety of topics, such as immigration, identity, and culture. Deadline for submissions: November 15, 2019.

Contact us at dlacenter@middlebury.edu.

Featured Resources

Project Videos

The Digital Caribbean: VI Symposium

Read on for news from the DLA about what we’re up to this year and how we can help you.

Subscribe to our email list.

The Digital Caribbean: VI Symposium

The Digital Caribbean: VI Symposium will bring together scholars and practitioners to discuss the latest developments in digital humanities research and practice in the Caribbean. The symposium will feature keynote addresses, panel discussions, and workshops on topics such as digital methods, archiving, and public engagement. Register here.

Legal Literacies for Text Data Mining Institute

We will hold a one-day workshop on legal literacy for text data mining on November 16, 2019. The workshop will focus on using natural language processing techniques to analyze legal documents and identify relevant legal issues. Register here.

US L. Latino Digital Humanities CFP

The US L. Latino Digital Humanities Center is seeking proposals for digital humanities projects that focus on the experiences of Latinx communities in the United States. Projects may address a variety of topics, such as immigration, identity, and culture. Deadline for submissions: November 15, 2019.

Contact us at dlacenter@middlebury.edu.